La superviviente

A translation of Endling #1: The Last (9780062335524)

Katherine Applegate

"Applegate effortlessly constructs her fantasy world, briskly moving readers through its imaginative details while creating winning, unique characters. This epic series starter is a bracing, propulsive read that will be a challenge to keep on the shelf." —ALA Booklist (starred review), on the English-language edition

"Fantasy lovers are in for a treat with this smartly paced, enthralling adventure. The heart and courage Byx and her companions must find as they stand up against unimaginable odds will inspire and delight. A sweeping fantasy epic that will have readers clamoring for a follow-up." —School Library Journal (starred review), on the English-language edition

"Applegate skillfully builds a fully realized world of intrigue and wonder without ever letting up on the story’s quick pace. Themes of genocide, conservation, and magic are interwoven, providing thought-provoking questions for astute readers. A savvy choice for readers of fantasy." —Kirkus Reviews (starred review), on the English-language edition

Byx is the youngest member of her dairne pack. Believed to possess remarkable abilities, her mythical doglike species has been hunted to near extinction. After her pack is hunted down and killed, Byx fears she may be the last of her species. She sets out to find safe haven, and to see if the legends of other hidden dairnes are true. Along the way, she meets new allies who each have their own motivations for joining her quest. And although they begin as strangers, they become their own kind of family—one that will ultimately uncover a secret that may threaten every creature in their world. Building on the success of her critically acclaimed novels The One and Only Ivan, Crenshaw, and Wishtree, while also returning to her action-packed fantasy roots of Animorphs, the Endling series is Katherine Applegate at her finest. With its enthralling characters, unique setting, and gripping adventure, this series is the perfect next read for fans of Rick Riordan and Tui T. Sutherland.

Quiero ser un héroe

I Want to Be a Hero

Ninah Basich
Illustrations by Claudia Navarro

Dita is very small, but that doesn’t bother her: she has a very big wish and she’ll do whatever it takes to make it come true—even if that means helping the worms and ants, or even training every day with the beetles. She’s tired of weaving with her mom and grandma, since that takes up a lot of time she’d rather spend seeking out adventures.

Ninah Basich is the winner of the 2016 FOEM international children’s literature competition, the 2012 Mercosur children’s book contest, and the 2007 Gerardo Cornejo Murrieta literature prize. Claudia Navarro has been featured nine times in Mexico’s National Council for Culture and Arts general publication directory and has worked for various publishers. Lito Ferrán
From a very young age, Robinson Crusoe could not hide his passion for the sea and adventures. Ignoring the good advice of his father, he escapes from his home to embark on an adventure. He encounters various misfortunes such as spending years as a slave of a pirate, yet despite this he still embarks on a second journey that leads him to live on a desert island for 28 years.

Lito Ferrán is a teacher and a children’s book author.

El sombrero del muerto y otros cuentos extraños
The Dead Man’s Hat and Other Strange Stories
Franco Vaccarini
A Komodo dragon hidden under the kitchen table, a monster named Anfibio that devours the locals, and a rare artifact that serves as a poet’s muse are some of the strange stories in this collection. This anthology combines humor, fantasy, and horror, resulting in a book with touches of mystery and suspense that blurs the line between reality and fantasy.

Franco Vaccarini is one of Argentina’s most renowned authors. He is the author of more than 80 novels in various genres.
In most history books, Saint Martin is portrayed as the Great Captain, the Liberator of America, the Father of the Fatherland. This doesn’t take into consideration that he was just an ordinary man until he did something extraordinary. Historians tell the story in an important and solemn way, which is why this book intends to present Saint Martin in a new light, looking closer at his passions and the betrayals he had to face.

Norma Santos is a history professor. She has worked in secondary and higher education institutions throughout her career and specializes in Argentinian history.

Meet Zézé: Brazil’s naughtiest and most lovable boy, his talent for mischief is matched only by his great kindness. When he grows up he wants to be a “poet with a bowtie,” but for now he entertains himself playing pranks on the residents of his family’s poor Rio de Janeiro neighborhood and inventing friends to play with. That is, until he meets a real friend, and his life begins to change...

José Mauro de Vasconcelos was a Brazilian writer. After his literary debut in 1945 with Banana branca, he combined his writing with a film career as both an actor and as a screenwriter. His work draws from Brazil’s orally transmitted popular narratives and is characterized by respect for nature and compassion towards the most disadvantaged. He wrote about twenty novels, including Coração de vidro and O veleiro de cristal.

La metamorfosis y otros relatos
An adaptation of The Metamorphosis and Other Stories
Franz Kafka

When Gregor Samsa wakes up as an insect, the transformation affects his appearance, but also his thoughts and outlook. He soon asks himself questions like Who are we? How do others see us? Can we live like this? The Metamorphosis is accompanied by celebrated stories “The Judgement” and “Letter to His Father.”

Frank Kafka is considered one of the most influential authors of the 20th century due to his introspective work, understanding of the psychology of his characters, and his settings that combine reality, fantasy, and symbolism. His books include In the Penal Colony, The Trial, and Letter to His Father.

We find ourselves with a novel that was ahead of its time, both in the narrative and the theme, a work that transcends romanticism to enter autobiographical and ideological territories. The character of Jane Eyre is the portrait of a woman who fights to be recognized as valuable as anyone else. This message is now more valid than ever.

Charlotte Bronte is a well-known author. She attended a boarding school that was the inspiration behind Jane Eyre. Unfortunately, the terrible conditions there led her to contract tuberculosis.

Oscar Wilde was a playwright, poet, and novelist. He studied at Trinity College and Magdalen College in Oxford. He is best known for his novel The Picture of Dorian Gray, and his plays The Importance of Being Earnest, An Ideal Husband, and Women of No Importance.

Robert Louis Stevenson was one of the giants of the adventure novel, but he was also one of the great connoisseurs of human mentality, which is why he would sooner or later write an everlasting classic like El extraño caso del doctor Jekyll y el señor Hyde. As a lucid witness to the Industrial Revolution in the United Kingdom, Stevenson reflects on the limits of methods and the scientific ethics, and above all, in an absorbent and unforgettable manner, the duality between good and bad.

Robert Louis Stevenson is a writer who is best known for his fantastic novels and adventures, in which good and evil are always compared, by way of moral allegory to serve mystery and adventure.
El jugador

The Player, a translation from the Russian

Fiodor Dostoievski

This short novel portrays the pessimism of the author, Fiódor Dostoyevski, who often drew from his own pain as his source of literary inspiration. This masterful and brilliant narrative throws a penetrating look on Russian character when faced with failure.

Fiódor Dostoyevski is considered one of the greatest writers of the West and of universal literature. His work explores human psychology in the complex political, social, and spiritual context of nineteenth century Russian society.

Jane Eyre

A translation of Jane Eyre

Charlotte Brontë

Widely regarded as a revolutionary novel, Brontë’s masterpiece introduced the world to a radical new type of heroine, one whose defiant virtue and moral courage departed sharply from the more acquiescent and malleable female characters of the day. Passionate, dramatic, and surprisingly modern, Jane Eyre endures as one of the world’s most beloved novels.

Suth Jewelery (9780857425379), a translation of the German Katharina Winkler

Filiz’s story, being born into a gaggle of siblings, is the story of many women. They sleep outdoors, tend to their family’s lambs, and take care of each other while their mother protects them from their father. With great delicacy, Katharina Winkler portrays women’s struggles to survive their tormentors—who are often their own fathers, husbands, and brothers—in the face of patriarchal violence centered on misinterpretations of the meaning of love, religion, and honor.

Katharina Winkler is an Austrian writer. She earned the 2017 Prix du Premier Roman Étranger for Blue Jewelery, which is her first novel.

Retrato del futbolista adolescente
Portrait of a Teenage Soccer Player
Valentín Roma

Through the lens of soccer, author Valentín Roma examines the context of class mobility—both individual and collective—in a generation born in Spain in the late 1960s and early 1970s. They were the college-educated children of rural migrants to cities, the products of the social aspirations of the era, ever divided between bourgeois sensibilities and a survival instinct.

Valentín Roma is a Catalan art curator and a professor of contemporary art theory at the Autonomous University of Barcelona. He has curated exhibitions at the Picasso Museum, the Tàpies Foundation, CaixaForum, and the Stuttgart Kunstverein and currently directs the La Virreina Centre de la Imatge in Barcelona. Thomas Wolfe

It’s 1904, the St. Louis World’s Fair is in full swing, and the Wolfe family has traveled from Asheville to offer lodging for their neighbors visiting the fair. The family is soon consumed with the search for its lost son, a 12-year-old of extraordinary sensitivity and maturity. Against the backdrop of provincial America, Thomas Wolfe constructs a novel as beautiful as it is intense and evocative.

Thomas Wolfe was an American author of the early 20th century. His work was highly influential; William Faulkner called him the best writer of his generation, and Sinclair Lewis quoted him in his Nobel Prize acceptance speech. His influence can also be seen in writers of the Beat Generation and in the work of authors such as Philip Roth and Gordon Lish.

“[U]rgent and explosive ... near perfect ... a difficult book to put down.” —NPR, on the English-language edition

“[A] haunting novel, full of dazzling moments and not a few surprising turns...Home Fire blazes with the kind of annihilating devastation that transcends grief.” —Washington Post, on the English-language edition

Isma is finally free: after years taking care of her twin brothers since her mother’s death, her dream of studying in the United States has come true. But she can’t stop worrying about her sister Aneeka, as beautiful as she is stubborn; her brother Parvaiz, who has made her worst nightmare come true and left London to join ISIS; and her father, an infamous jihadist. Then Eamonn, the privileged son of a powerful British politician, appears in her life, and soon the fates of both families becomes inextricably, terribly linked. Home Fire deals with topical themes of civil disobedience, loyalty, and legality in its quest to respond to the question, What would you be willing to sacrifice for love?

Kamila Shamsie is a British author. She is a member of the Royal Society of Literature and appears on the Granta list for the Best of Young British Novelists. Her novel Home Fire was longlisted for the Man Booker Prize in 2017.

The Sueños are on the verge of civil war between the capital and the territories. But there’s a dagger that could solve everything, and the search for it will lead an incredible cast of characters into the void and give them hope in the face of imminent war. It could end in revenge, victory, or death—or maybe all of those at once.

Sebastián Elesgaray is an Argentinian author. His books include Los días de Nicolás, Trece cuentos inconexos, and Tierra de nadie.

Quién teme a la muerte
A translation of Who Fears Death (9780756406691)
Nnedi Okorafor

“Who Fears Death is one of the most striking, chilling, truly fascinating, and all-around remarkable novels I’ve read in a very long time.” —Peter S. Beagle, bestselling author of The Last Unicorn, on the English-language edition

“Nnedi Okorafor is American-born but her Nigerian blood runs strong, lacing her work with fantasy, magic and true African reality. Many people need to read Who Fears Death, it’s an important book.” —Nawal El Saadawi, bestselling author of Woman at Point Zero, on the English-language edition

In a post-apocalyptic Africa, the world has changed in many ways, yet in one region genocide between tribes still bloodies the land. A woman who has survived the annihilation of her village and a terrible rape wanders into the desert, hoping to die. Instead, she gives birth to an angry baby girl with hair and skin the color of sand. It doesn’t take long for Onye to understand that she is Ewu—a child of rape who is expected to live a life of violence, a half-breed rejected by her community. But Onye is not the average Ewu.

Nnedi Okorafor is an internationally awarded author of science fiction, fantasy, and magical realism located in Africa for children and adults. Born in the United States of Nigerian immigrant parents, she weaves African culture throughout her work. She is also the author of the Binti trilogy, Akata Witch, Akata Warrior, among others.

Un hombre malo
A translation of Bad Man (9780385542920)
Dathan Auerbach

One day, in a small town in Florida, a teenager goes to the supermarket with his three-year-old brother. Everything seems normal until the child disappears. Five years later, without any discovery and the family undone, Ben decides to work at the same store where his brother disappeared. Little by little he begins to find tracks left behind by dark characters with unrecognizable features and foul odors. He can feel that something is wrong there. The store has much to tell him, so he keeps searching while missing the most important message of all. That he should have stopped looking.

Dathan Auerbach was born in the southern U.S. and has lived there for most of his life. In 2011, he began posting a series of stories to a forum dedicated to horror. After a Kickstarter that raised over 100% of its goal, he was able to release the revised and expanded versions of his story as the novel “Penpal.” He lives in Florida.

Stories of Father Brown
C.K. Chesterton
Introduction by Federico Von Baumbach

If the detective story is the earliest expression of modern life then who better, Chesterton proposes, than a priest to decipher it? Thus arises one of the most endearing literary characters, Father Brown. Crime and mysteries unravel in this classic novel.

Federico Von Baumbach holds a degree in communication sciences and took an advanced course in publishing at the University of Buenos Aires. He has lead various literary workshops and clinics and currently works as a proofreader.

El hombre más feliz de la historia

The Happiest Man in History
Augusto Cury

For Jesus to be happy was not always to be happy, but to know how to reinvent himself in the face of adversity and frustrations: to manage his thoughts and emotions during each crisis in his life. Therefore, the psychiatrist Marco Polo undertakes the missions of unveiling the essence of the Codes of Happiness through massive conferences to change the way many people think and to have a positive impact on their lives. But just when everything seems to be going well, it becomes the target of an unorganized group and starts a boycott.

Augusto Cury is a psychiatrist, investigator, and writer. He developed the Theory of Multifocal Intelligence that studies the process of constructing memories and the self as a mental administrator. Currently, he directs the Academy of Intelligence of São Paulo. He has sold more than 28 million books and been published in over 70 countries.

Helen Garner
Translated by Cruz Rodríguez Juiz

Helen Garner visits a morgue and takes a cruise on a Russian ship. She gets fired for teaching her students about sex and witnesses a birth and a wedding. She attends a school dance and a gun show. She writes about dreaming, about turning fifty, and the uproar caused by one of her books. Garner lives and observes; she looks with intelligence and compassion. Her nonfiction stories, always entertaining and passionate, span the 40 years of her career.

Helen Garner is an Australian writer. Her first novel, Monkey Grip, came out in 1977, won the 1978 National Book Council Award, and was adapted for film in 1981. Since then, she has published novels, short stories, essays, and feature journalism. In 2006, Garner received the inaugural Melbourne Prize for Literature.

Marta Sanz

The thoughts contained in this book are a response to uncertainty and a certain sense of malaise. They’re an oxymoron: these texts stem from the radical conviction that literature hardly matters to anyone anymore—but they also discuss literature from at once its temple, its walled garden, its lost paradise.

Marta Sanz is a Spanish writer. Her books include Susana y los viejos, Animales domésticos, and Los mejores tiempos, for which she received an El Ojo Crítico award.

Many people know that Frida Kahlo was a Mexican artist, a feminist icon who lived in the famous Blue House and whose work includes The Two Fridas. What, perhaps, they don’t know is that 55 of her 143 artworks are self-portraits; that her painting Roots holds the record for a Latin American artwork, having sold for $5.6 million in 2006; that she married her husband twice; or that she arrived for her first solo exhibition in an ambulance. This book casts a modern eye over her life and work, with an array of irresistible facts and figures converted into infographics to reveal the artist behind the pictures.

Sophie Collins has worked in publishing for over thirty years. She has also lectured for over a decade on a range of subjects in art history at Sotheby’s Institute of Art, The Open University, the University of Kent, Birmingham University and Birkbeck College, London.

La chica del tatuaje encima del culo

A translation of The Girl with the Lower Back Tattoo (9781501139895)

Amy Schumer

"Amy Schumer’s book will make you love her even more. For a comedian of unbridled (and generally hilarious) causticity, Schumer has written a probing, confessional, unguarded, and, yes, majorly humanizing non-memoir, a book that trades less on sarcasm, and more on emotional resonance." —Vogue, on the English-language edition

"The Girl with the Lower Back Tattoo is an alternatingly meditative, sexually explicit, side-splittingly hilarious, heart-wrenching, disturbing, passionately political, and always staggeringly authentic ride through the highs and lows of the comedic powerhouse's life to date." —Harper’s Bazaar, on the English-language edition

Amy Schumer took the American stand-up comedy scene by storm with her provocative, biting humor after finishing fourth on NBC’s Last Comic Standing. Her success came after years on the stage at obscure New York nightclubs and exhausting tours. Uniquely caustic and sharp-tongued, her irreverent and scatological humor has reinvented open-mic comedy. In The Girl with the Lower Back Tattoo, which has been a number-one New York Times bestseller, Schumer's collection of vignettes detail her ascent to fame, full of challenges and setbacks, but also key moments in her life. She tells of her relationship with her manipulative and unstable mother, her father's sudden degenerative illness, her relationships—with lovers, but also with stuffed animals, her children (food, or perhaps wine), and phobias (gyms, strong and silent types). Schumer has starred in movies like Snatched, I Feel Pretty, and Trainwreck. She is the creator of Comedy Central’s Emmy Award-winning Inside Amy Schumer.

Amy Schumer is an influential American comedian, actor, director, and producer. Her bombastic television program, Inside Amy Schumer, has won a Peabody Award, a Critics’ Choice Award, and two Primetime Emmy Awards. She starred in Snatched and Trainwreck, the latter of which she also co-wrote. As a comedian, she won a 2016 Pollstar Award for the comedy tour of the year. Trainwreck was nominated for a Golden Globe and earned Schumer a Critics’ Choice Award for best actress in a comedy and a Hollywood Film Award for comedy of the year.

Educate for Peace

Nora Rodríguez

It’s hard to educate generations who have been born into a hyperactive, technological world. Still, humans are the only species capable of teaching their offspring to be happy. In this sense, teaching responsible happiness, giving children a meaningful life that eliminates feelings of isolation, is the great challenge of education.

Nora Rodríguez is a writer, educator, and essayist in pedagogy and innovation. She specializes in school violence and leads the Happy Schools Institute. She has been an invited speaker by the United Nations.

Cómo santa Teresa me acompañó al sufismo
How Saint Teresa Accompanied Me to Sufism
Mardía Herrero
Foreword by Pablo d’Ors

Everything in her prose is a confession. Hers is a poetic prose, but not because she writes pretty things or uses holy words—though she does—but because her prose is naked. It’s easy to find mystic poetry, but Mardía’s prose is a rare case: it’s at once concise and exuberant, contained and passionate.

Pablo d’Ors is a Spanish priest and theologian. He is the founder of the Amigos del Desierto Foundation, which aims to foster contemplation and interiority in Christian life. His books include El olvido de sí, Biografía del silencio, and Sendoño se muere.

Comunicación no Violenta
Un Lenguaje de vida
A translation of Nonviolent Communication: A Language of Life (9781892005281)

Marshall B. Rosenberg
Translated by Magiari Díaz Díaz

“Nonviolent Communication connects soul to soul, creating a lot of healing. It is the missing element in what we do.” —Deepak Chopra, author, How To Know God, on the English-language edition

“Dr. Rosenberg has brought the simplicity of successful communication into the foreground. No matter what issue you’re facing, his strategies for communicating with others will set you up to win every time.” —Anthony Robbins, author, Awaken the Giant Within and Unlimited Power, on the English-language edition

What is Violent Communication? If “violent” means acting in ways that result in hurt or harm, then much of how we communicate—judging others, bullying, having racial bias, blaming, finger pointing, discriminating, speaking without listening, criticizing others or ourselves, name-calling, reacting when angry, using political rhetoric, being defensive or judging who’s “good/bad” or what’s “right/wrong” with people—could indeed be called “violent.” What is Nonviolent Communication? It’s the integration of consciousness, language, communication, and means of influence and serves our desire to live with more choice, meaning, and connection, connect empathically with ourselves and others, and to share resources for the benefit of everyone.

Marshall B. Rosenberg, PhD founded and was for many years the Director of Educational Services for the Center for Nonviolent Communication, an international peacemaking organization. He authored 15 books, including the bestselling Nonviolent Communication, which has sold more than one million copies and has been translated into more than thirty languages. Magiari Díaz Díaz is a Certified Nonviolent Communication Trainer, translator and professional interpreter with a master’s degree in peace and conflict transformation from the University of Innsbruck in Austria. Alan Rafael Seid Llamas began studying the CNV in 1995 with Dr. Marshall Rosenberg. Alan received certification as a trainer in 2003, and works privately in areas of social change, personal development, and leadership.

A translation of Wonder Over Worry: Move Beyond Fear and Doubt to Unlock Your Full Potential (9781250175250)

Amber Rae

“Amber Rae’s very personal journey of moving from a constructed identity of self-limiting beliefs to her true self in the domain of creativity, wonder, joy and higher consciousness offers inspiring insights and lessons for anyone wanting to unfold their infinite potential.” —Deepak Chopra, on the English-language edition

We are all born with an invaluable gift: our capacity for amazement and wonder. Life, however, teaches us to ignore this and instead listen to another voice: that of preoccupation, that tells us that we don’t do things well enough or that we lack intelligence to succeed. El poder del asombro is an invitation to face your fears, wake up to your truth, and find the root of what prevents you from succeeding. From her resilient story, Amber Rae teaches you to connect with your own power of wonder.

Amber Rae is an author, graphic artist, and speaker whose work is an invitation to serve your own truth, celebrate your emotions, and express your talents. Her writings have reached over 5 million people in 195 countries. Artistically, she has collaborated with companies such as Kate Spade, Apple, Amazon, and Lululemon. She’s appeared on television networks like ABC, BBC, and in publications such as The New York Times. She is the founder of The Bold Academy. She lives in Brooklyn, New York.

El poder de tu belleza
The Power of Your Beauty

Lucy Lara

Being pretty is not everything, the image we project to the world is made up of various aspects such as personality, intelligence, and self-esteem. In El poder de la belleza, Lucy Lara invites readers to embark on a quest of physical and psychological well-being to build upon interior beauty. This is a comprehensive guide that explains the importance of accepting ourselves to exploit our potential, because learning to be attractive plays a role in harmful behaviors such as obsessions of being perfect.

Lucy Lara studied communication at the University Iberoamericana as well as Fashion Design at the Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising in California. She has been a columnist, editor, and director of various fashion magazines. She is currently the editor of Glamour in Mexico and Latin America and coauthor of El poder de la ropa, with Antonio González de Cosío.
Meditación para escépticos inquietos

A translation of Meditation for Fidgety Skeptics (9780399588945)

Dan Harris, Jeff Warren, and Carlye Adler

“If you’re intrigued by meditation but don’t know how to begin—or you’ve benefited from meditation in the past but need help to get started again, Dan Harris has written the book for you. Well researched, practical, and crammed with expert advice, it’s also an irreverent, hilarious page-turner.”—Gretchen Rubin, author of The Happiness Project, on the English-language edition

“The ABC News anchor, a ‘defender of worrying’ who once had an anxiety attack on air, offers a hilarious and stirring account of his two-steps-forward-one-step-back campaign to sort ‘useless rumination’ from ‘constructive anguish’ via mindfulness, along with invaluable suggestions for following in his footsteps.”—O: The Oprah Magazine, on the English-language edition

Like many other skeptics, news anchor Dan Harris thought meditation was reserved for people who collect crystals and have impossible diets. One day changed all that when he suffered a panic attack on national television for several million people to witness. Since then, he discovered that meditation can help mitigate depression and anxiety, control blood pressure, and improve overall wellbeing. In this work, Harris and meditation teacher Jeff Warden embark on a journey to explore the myths, misunderstandings, and self-deceptions that keep people from meditation. With a mixture of testimonies and practical exercises, clear and applicable to all kinds of daily routines, Meditación para escépticos inquietos demonstrates that it is possible to change our lives without radically transforming our habits.

Dan Harris is the co-anchor of ABC’s Nightline and the weekend editions of Good Morning America. He wrote 10% Happier, a #1 New York Times bestseller, then launched the 10% Happier podcast and an app called 10% Happier: Meditation for Fidgety Skeptics. He lives in New York City. Jeff Warren is a writer, a meditation instructor, and the founder of the Consciousness Explorers Club, a meditation adventure group in Toronto. Carlye Adler is a journalist and co-author of many books, including three New York Times bestsellers.

A translation of Pick Three: You Can Have It All (Just Not Every Day) (9780062842824)
Randi Zuckerberg

We often want to abandon everything that doesn’t fulfill us. We feel guilty if we don’t devote enough time to family, friends, exercising, sleeping, or being successful professionally. We try, in vain, to balance our multiple activities and we feel overwhelmed by our expectations. With the Choose Three method, these categories can be combined in such a way that balancing your responsibilities becomes a reality. Randi Zuckerberg invites us to make a plan to prioritize and choose, each day, three of the five options to fulfill our purpose, without fault.

Randi Zuckerberg is a New York Times bestselling author, the founder and CEO of Zuckerberg Media, and host of “Dot Complicated” on SiriusXM. Randi also served as mentor on Oxygen’s show “Quit Your Day Job,” as well as executive producer of “Dot.”

Cuentos clásicos para conocerte mejor

Classic Stories to Get to Know You Better

Jorge Bucay

Few authors understand the therapeutic power that stories possess as well as Jorge Bucay, who combines his experience in psychology with his talent to recreate classic stories. The eleven stories presented in this volume are complemented by their traditional interpretation along with a re-reading.

Jorge Bucay is a doctor and a psychotherapist. His books have been translated into more than 24 languages, and he has become one of the most influential thinkers of today’s society. He is the author of Amarse con los ojos abiertos, Cuentos para pensar, De la autoestima al egoísmo, De la ignorancia a la sabiduría, Hojas de ruta, and many others.

Ser feliz es una decisión

Being Happy is a Decision

Fabian Ciarlotti

A sutra—a profound thought compacted into a simple axiom—can be very powerful. A good sutra, such as the ones in this book, is a thought that remains with you and yields a cascade of ideas and thoughts, perhaps even a door to another way of life.

Fabian Ciarlotti is a doctor and physiotherapist specialized in orthopedic surgery and Ayurvedic medicine, for which he was trained in India. He is a professor at the University of Buenos Aires and at Maimonides University. He is the author of many books, including Traumatología cinésica, Zapping demente, and Ayurveda y Filosofía.

Ansiedad 2

Cómo controlar el estrés y mantener el equilibrio

Anxiety 2

Augusto Cury

Based on his autobiographical experiences and research on emotional intelligence, the psychiatrist Augusto Cury proposes valuable emotional tools to manage stress and anxiety. These represent a paradigm shift for our psychological and physical wellbeing because they make us more aware, less reactive, and more receptive.

Augusto Cury is a psychiatrist, investigator, and writer. He designed the Theory of Multi-Focal Intelligence, which outlines the complete process of constructing thoughts and the formation of the “I” as the mental administrator. He manages the Academy of Intelligence in Sao Paulo and is considered the single best-selling author in Brazil.
Cómo hacer un buen trabajo sin ser un indeseable
A translation of How to Do Great Work Without Being an Asshole (9781786273918)
Paul Woods
It’s long been an accepted, almost celebrated, fact of the creative industries that long hours, chaotic workflows, and egotistical colleagues are just the price you pay to produce great work. In fact, this toxic culture is the enemy of creativity, and with greater accountability and transparency in the industry (and more choice for young talent) than ever before, this unsustainable way of doing business is a ticking time bomb. This is a straight-talking, fun read for all creatives that is packed with anecdotes, self-analysis flowcharts and exercises and action plans for better working practices.
Paul Woods is an award-winning designer, writer and illustrator. During his 15 years as a designer, Paul has been at the helm of projects for companies like Red Bull, Google, The City of Santa Monica, Morgan Stanley, and Time Inc., among many others. He lives in Los Angeles.

When is the right time to move from work that is comfortable to a career you have only dared to dream of? How have other people made such a jump? What did they feel when making that jump? and afterward? The right book at the right time, When to Jump offers more than forty heartening stories (from the founder of Bonobos, the designer of the Lyft logo, the Humans of New York creator, and many more) and takeaways that will inspire, instruct, and reassure, including the ingenious four-phase Jump Curve.
Mike Lewis worked at Bain Capital before chasing his dream of playing professional squash. He is the founder and CEO of When to Jump, a global community of people who have left one path to pursue a very different one. He lives in San Francisco.
Las 48 leyes del poder
A translation of The 48 Laws of Power (9780140280197)

Robert Greene
“Machiavelli has a new rival. And Sun Tzu had better watch his back. Greene . . . has put together a checklist of ambitious behavior. Just reading the table of contents is enough to stir a little corner-office lust.” —New York magazine, on the English-language edition

“Beguiling . . . literate . . . fascinating. A wry primer for people who desperately want to be on top.” —People magazine, on the English-language edition

“An heir to Machiavelli’s Prince . . . gentler souls will find this book frightening, those whose moral compass is oriented solely to power will have a perfect vade mecum.” —Publishers Weekly, on the English-language edition

“Satisfyingly dense and . . . literary, with fantastic examples of genius power-game players. It’s The Rules meets In Pursuit of Wow! with a degree in comparative literature.” —Allure, on the English-language edition

Amoral, merciless, ruthless, and above all, instructive, this multi-million-copy New York Times bestseller combines three thousand years of the history of power into forty-eight clear and concise laws. Robert Greene details the laws of power in the rawest sense, synthesizing the thoughts of Sun Tzu, Carl von Clausewitz and other great theorists and strategists. This is the definitive manual for anyone interested in gaining, observing, or defending against ultimate control.

Robert Greene is the author of the New York Times bestsellers The 48 Laws of Power, The 50th Law, The Art of Seduction, and Master. In addition to having a strong following within the business world and a deep following in Washington, DC, Greene’s books are hailed by everyone from war historians to the biggest musicians in the industry. He lives in Los Angeles.

El espejo del yoga
El despertar de la inteligencia del cuerpo y de la mente
A translation of The Mirror of Yoga (9780399176647)
Richard Freeman

The sheer number of schools and methods in yoga is as incredible as it is intimidating. Still, all these currents share the same goal: to discover the essence contained the center of our being. By showing what this diversity of forms and approaches has in common, author Richard Freeman draws a vast and interconnected matrix and offers a clarifying vision of the heart of the teachings, practices, and writings that form the basis for all schools of yoga.

Richard Freeman is a renowned yoga teacher and expert in the Hindu religious texts and teachings that inform the practice. His work joins together a vast array of teachings and perspectives, in keeping with the richness of this ancient tradition.

El incendio de la mina El Bordo
The Fire of the El Bordo Mine
Yuri Herrera

In the aftermath of a fire at the El Bordo mine in Hidalgo, Mexico, the official estimate of 10 deaths proved terribly wrong: six days later, 86 bodies were found in the mine—in addition to seven who were still alive. This detailed historical reconstruction traces the events of the days following the fire, including the complicity between authorities and the press, to show that the events at El Bordo were far from an isolated incident.

Yuri Herrera is a Mexican author, a professor at Tulane University, and the founder of el perro literary journal. He received the Otras Voces, Otros Ámbitos award for his first novel, Trabajos del reino.

Operación Masacre
A translation of Operation Massacre (9781609805135)
Rodolfo Walsh

In Argentina in 1956, a failed coup against the military government that removed Juan Perón from office a year before triggered a clandestine operation designed to eliminate people opposed to the regime. In a garbage dump on the outskirts of the capital, a group of civilians were shot before martial law was decreed. In the weeks that followed, a rumor spread throughout the city that some of them had survived. Walsh managed to find one of these alleged survivors, and after listening to his testimony began a dangerous and obsessive investigation to find the truth.

Rodolfo Walsh was an Argentine writer and journalist who was disappeared in 1977 by the Argentine military dictatorship. He was one of the first Latin American writers to use novelistic techniques in journalism. His nonfiction works include Operación Masacre and ¿Quién mató a Rosendo?

As a young journalist at the Washington Post in 1972, Bob Woodward was sent to cover what would become the Watergate scandal, perhaps the most devastating political scandal of the 20th century. All the President's Men was published just months before Richard Nixon’s resignation and uncovered Watergate in all its gritty details.
Bob Woodward is a Pulitzer Prize-winning American investigative journalist and an associate editor at The Washington Post. Carl Bernstein is an American investigative journalist and author. His books include The Final Days and A Woman in Charge: The Life of Hillary Rodham Clinton. The two journalists collaborated on reporting the Watergate scandal.

Mexico: Undiscovered Territory
Aníbal Santiago
The people in this collection of 19 stories are neither celebrities nor important public figures—they’re everyday Mexicans who experience violence, hunger, and transborder life; they’re Mexicans who enjoy the excesses of celebrity and Acapulco; they’re bureaucrats and salespeople who live modest lives. These stories are told in rich detail in search of the places and the people who make up the Mexican landscape but who might typically go unnoticed.
Aníbal Santiago is a Mexican journalist and author. He received Mexico’s National Journalism Award in 2007.

Geografía de la locura
en busca del pene perdido y otros delirios colectivos
A translation of The Geography of Madness (9781612193724)
Frank Bures
From voodoo to the Southeast Asian phenomenon of involuntary jerky dances and movements known as Latah, this book presents a journey around the world through culture-bound syndromes and an extraordinary history of all the strange things we believe in. Far from restricted to “primitive” or remote cultures, belief in the supernatural also filters through the many cracks in contemporary reason. Frank Bures has constructed a complex, subtle, and fascinating reflection on the fictions that define us as a species.
Frank Bures is an American writer and journalist. His articles and stories have appeared in Harper’s, Lapham’s Quarterly, and The New Republic, and have been included in anthologies such as Best American Travel Writing and Best American Sports Writing. The Geography of Madness is his first book.

A translation of Girls Are Not Chicks (9781604860764)

Jacinta Bunnell
“An ingeniously subversive coloring book.”
—Heather Findlay, editor in chief, Girlfriends magazine
on the English-language edition

Twenty-seven pages of feminist fun! This is a coloring book you will never outgrow. Girls Can Be Kings is a subversive and playful way to examine how pervasive gender stereotypes are in every aspect of our lives. This book helps to deconstruct the homogeneity of gender expression in children’s media by showing diverse pictures that reinforce positive gender roles for girls. Girls are thinkers, creators, fighters, healers, and superheroes.

Jacinta Bunnell is an artist, educator, and author of the coloring books Sometimes the Spoon Runs Away with Another Spoon, Girls Are Not Chicks, Girls Will Be Boys Will Be Girls Will Be..., and The Big Gay Alphabet Coloring Book. She has facilitated workshops in collectives, conferences, schools, colleges, bookstores, and LGBTQ centers around the U.S. and Canada. Jacinta’s art work has been shown at the Horticultural Society of New York, Allegheny College, KMOCA, Woodstock Artists Association, Columbia College Chicago, and elsewhere.

100 cosas que hay que saber del Camino de Santiago

100 Things to Know About the Camino de Santiago

Carlos Mencos

The Camino de Santiago has come back strong in recent decades. Whereas 13 people made the pilgrimage to Compostela in 1978, hundreds of thousands now make the journey each year. To get the most out of the experience, it’s best to prepare. That means knowing where you’re going, what you’re going to find, and answers to the 100 questions included in this book, including Who was Santiago? Did he walk this path? Why do so many of the pilgrims experience profound changes?

Carlos Mencos Arraiza is a Spanish writer and the author of some of the most acclaimed guides to the Way of Saint James and its various pilgrimage routes. He is the recipient of the Aymeric Picaud Award for cultural contributions to the Way of Saint James.

Bowie
La historia ilustrada
A translation of Bowie, The Illustrated Story (9780760352663)
Pat Gilbert

Widely regarded as one of the most influential musicians and performers of the previous five decades, Bowie demolished what were thought to be the limitations of stagecraft in rock music. As a result, Bowie has been credited with inspiring genres as disparate as glam and punk rock. This sharply written, and gorgeously designed retrospective follows Bowie’s career. Nearly every page is illustrated with stunning concert and candid offstage photography, including gig posters, 7-inch picture sleeves, concert ticket stubs, and more. The result is a fitting tribute to one of the most influential and admired stars in rock history.

Pat Gilbert is a former editor of Mojo, an internationally acclaimed music magazine. He has also contributed to Q magazine, the Guardian, The Times and the Sunday Times, and produced radio programs for the BBC. He is also the author of Passion is a Fashion and *Shut It! Las claves del aprendizaje musical
Guía para mejorar con tu instrumento musical y en el canto

The Keys to Learning Music
Rafael García Martínez

Improving at anything is always a challenge, and music is no exception. Music lies at the crossroads of the heart and the intellect and has the potential to create spirals of magic and admiration. It’s a true privilege to come a little closer to provoking these experiences in others through song or a musical instrument.

Rafael García Martínez is one of the preeminent teachers of the Alexander technique in Spain. Since 2001, he has been teaching this technique at the Conservatory of Music in Aragon. He is the author of Optimiza tu actividad musical as well as many articles about the Alexander technique.

Punk
Eduardo Izquierdo and Eloy Pérez Ladaga

Punk wouldn’t be what it is without bands like the Stooges, the Clash, the Sex Pistols, Fugazi, and so many others. Started as a countercultural movement, punk quickly became a signifier of identity for young people who saw in its “no future” ethos a place of refuge during difficult times.

Eduardo Izquierdo is a Spanish music writer and the codirector of Producciones Acaraperro. His work has appeared in Ruta66, Mondo Sonoro, and Efe Eme, and he is the author of Country Rock. A translation of Sex Pistols: The Graphic Novel (9781780381787)

Jim McCarthy and Steve Parkhouse

In this explosive graphic novel about the rise and fall of the Sex Pistols—the most iconic punk band of the 20th century—vivid illustrations take us back to their peak years. Defined by their many scandals and provocatively satirical lyrics, the Sex Pistols were the center of attention in Britain and an inspiration for countless musicians.

Jim McCarthy is a graphic artist and writer. He is best known for his graphic biographies of famous musicians, such as Ramones, Godspeed: The Kurt Cobain Graphic Novel, and Voices of Latin Rock. Marc Oliven is an illustrator. He has drawn for comics such as Sundown Crossroads and Rick Fury and for Dark Satanic Mills. Steve Parkhouse is an illustrator whose books include Night Raven, Big Dave, and Doctor Who.

Pink Floyd
Historia detrás de sus 179 canciones

Pink Floyd, a translation from the French (9782851208880)
Jean-Michel Guesdon

The year was 1966. While the young people lived during the most epic time in London, a group caused a sensation: Syd Barrett, Roger Waters, Rick Wright and Nick Mason played blues rock like nobody else. After a few months they recorded their first singles: “Arnold Layne” / “Candy And A Currant Bun” and “See Emily Play” / “Scarecrow” and then, their first album: The Piper At The Gates Of Dawn. The prodigious career of Pink Floyd had begun.

Jean-Michael Guesdon is an editor, producer, sound engineer, musician, and composer. He has co-produced and co-published numerous musical collections, specifically for Rym Musique and Universal. He is also the co-author of international bestsellers such as All About the Beatles, Bob Dylan and The Rolling Stones.

A translation of Imagine John Yoko (9780500021842)

John Lenon and Yoko Ono

In 1971, John Lennon and Yoko Ono conceived and recorded the critically acclaimed album “Imagine” at their Georgian country home. The lyrics of the title track were inspired by Yoko Ono’s ‘event scores’ in her 1964 book Grapefruit, and she was officially co-credited as writer in June 2017. Imagine John Yoko tells the story of John & Yoko’s life, work and relationship during this intensely creative period, featuring 80% exclusive, hitherto-unpublished archive photos and footage sequences of all the key players.

John Lennon was an English singer, songwriter and peace activist who co-founded the Beatles. Yoko Ono is a globally renowned multimedia artist, singer, songwriter and activist. She married John Lennon in 1969 and became his creative partner and muse.

This book describes fifty pivotal moments — some famous, others unfamiliar — from the Renaissance to the present day. Vivid, colorful vignettes capture the excitement of their times. Lee Cheshire’s storytelling approach is both entertaining and easy to remember. He celebrates artistic ingenuity and collaboration, but does not shy away from the arguments, fights and lawsuits that have dogged art’s often-turbulent course. A reference section includes an invaluable glossary of art terms.
Lee Cheshire is a Senior Editor and Copywriter at Tate. He also contributes to Tate magazine, and edited a special magazine marking the opening of the extension to Tate Modern. He is also the author of London in Paint, a survey of painting in London since the 17th century.

James Cahill
Based upon advice from a huge roster of artists, dealers and curators; and encompassing every stage of an artist’s life—from early works, to debut shows and mid and late-career—this book answers all the key questions that every artist has at some point asked themselves. Do you need a studio or a dealer, and how do you find one? Are artists too competitive? How do they come up with ideas, and what is the point of the private view? Does financial success—or the lack of it—change an artist?
James Cahill is a writer and his work has appeared in publications including Apollo, The Burlington Magazine, Elephant, frieze, the London Review of Books, the Times Literary Supplement and The White Review. He has curated exhibitions at the Museum of Classical Archaeology, Cambridge, and King’s College London.

Carles Marsal and Eduard Martorell
The flight of a helicopter recalls that of a dragonfly, and its blades might make you think of the wings on linden or maple seeds. Are these parallels a coincidence, or do people typically invent with nature in mind? In fact, people copy nature whenever they can. This illustrated album pairs drawings of technological inventions with the element of nature that inspired them, along with an explanatory text for each one.
Eduard Martorell i Sabaté is a Catalan professor at the Universitat Internacional de Catalunya with a background in biology and preventive clinical medicine. He is an editor at Text-La Galera and the author of nature textbooks, stories, and articles for children. Carles Marsal is a Catalan graphic designer and visual designer.
