Love Baby Healthy Series

Come bebé, sanamente

A translation of Eat Baby, Healthy (9781936669301)

Dr. John Hutton
Illustrations by Leah Busch

“This is a must read for all expecting moms, grandmothers, fathers, siblings, and other family members to learn about the far-reaching importance of breastfeeding.” —Dr. Julie Ware, MD, MPH, IBCLC, FAAP, FABM, Certified Lactation Consultant and Attending Physician, Cincinnati Children’s Hospital

We share good things for nine months long, so I meet you healthy and strong. Feed me after I am born, skin to skin, safe and warm . . .

Written by a pediatrician, Come bebé, sanamente is a soft, rhyming story from a baby’s point of view that celebrates the health and emotional benefits of prenatal nutrition and breastfeeding. This is the third book in a groundbreaking series, including the bestselling Sleep Baby, Safe and Snug and Calm Baby, Gently, dedicated to sharing health guidance for parents of infants through children’s books, while promoting shared reading and togetherness.

Dr. John Hutton is a pediatrician, an author, and the owner of the award-winning blue manatee children’s bookstore in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is the author of Sleep Baby, Safe and Snug and the award-winning Baby Unplugged series and the founder of the blog Baby Unplugged. Chupetes de luna
Moon Pacifiers
José Urriola
Illustrations by Javier Velasco

Marcela does not want to give up her pacifier. Today’s the day when astronauts are traveling to the Moon for the first time on board Apollo 11, and her parents have hatched a plan to put the pacifier on top of the TV when the rocket blasts off in an effort to convince her that her pacifier has gone to the Moon too. Problem solved, they think—but sometimes, things can take an unusual turn.

José Urriola studied social communication and holds master’s degrees in literature and film. He currently works as a writer and teacher in Mexico City. Javier Velasco is a children’s book illustrator.

Las aventuras de Pinocho
A translation of The Adventures of Pinocchio (9781454912682)
Carlo Collodi
Illustrations by Robert Ingpen

The astonishing tale of how an old woodcarver made a puppet boy from an unusual piece of wood who could talk, dance and do somersaults, has been a much-loved story since it was first written more than 130 years ago. The irrepressible Pinocchio ignores the advice of his kindly father and sets off into the world for some extraordinary adventures. He is a tragicomic figure — a disobedient and exuberant boy who is easily led astray. In this handsome new edition, award-winning illustrator Robert Ingpen has captured the rascally Pinocchio and his extraordinary adventures as never before, breathing new life to this entertaining classic.

Carlo Collodi was an Italian children’s writer who gained worldwide recognition as the creator of the perennial favorite character, Pinocchio. He founded a satirical newspaper called Il Lampione, and wrote non-fiction as well as translating from French. Robert Ingpen is an award-winning illustrator.

¡Pesadillas!
A translation of Nightmares! (9780385744256)

Jason Segel and Kirsten Miller

“Charlie Laird, who learns fear will eat you alive if you feed it, makes an impression, and...readers will want to accompany him again.” —New York Times Book Review, on the English-language edition

“[Nightmares!] succeeds at scaring and amusing in equal measure...[It's] sweet, charming, and imaginative.”—Kirkus Reviews, on the English-language edition

“Segel...and Miller build an entertaining, cartoony world full of scary (but not too scary) monsters, silly jokes, plucky kid heroes...with a promise of adventures to come.”—Booklist, on the English-language edition

• English-language edition sold over 55,000 copies.

Charlie Lair, the protagonist, recently lost his mother and is now haunted by a series of terrible nightmares. The appearance of his new stepmother, Charlotte, only makes matters worse, especially when she takes him along with his father and younger brother to go live in her purple mansion. Such a place hides many secrets and unimaginable terrors behind its walls, forcing Charlie’s nightmares to slowly leak into the waking world. However, the young boys manage to attack these terrors with the help of curious characters they meet along the way. This is the first book of a trilogy, promising other youthful adventures for children.

Jason Segel is a comedian who is best known for his role in the TV series, How I Met Your Mother. He also recently played David Foster Wallace in the movie, The End of the Tour. Besides acting, he enjoys writing and composing music. Nightmares! is his first novel. Kirsten Miller is a novelist and the author of the Kiki Strike series.

Set in an imaginary kingdom, this novel presents a society divided by blood color—commoners have red blood, while those with silver blood form an elite class with supernatural abilities. Mare, a member of the red-blooded class, is one day noticed by the king for her special powers and absorbed into the life of the court. However, what they don’t know is that she’s an agent for the Scarlet Guard, who is in the midst of preparing a rebellion.

Victoria Aveyard studied directing at the University of Southern California. After her first novel, La reina roja, received high praise from reviewers, she decided to dedicate herself professionally to writing.

Deuce, a girl who lived in an underground enclave until circumstances forced her to the surface, has found a new home in the community of Salvation. Yet again, the community is surrounded by monsters that threaten the safety of all its inhabitants. She might not be a Huntress anymore, but she doesn’t run. Knives in hand and companions at her side, Deuce must prepare to protect others’ lives as well as her own. There hasn’t been a war like this in centuries, and humans have forgotten how to stand and fight. This time, though, more than the fate of a single enclave or an outpost hangs in the balance, and Deuce carries the survival of all humanity on her shoulders.

Rhoma Grace, a 16-year-old from the House of Cancer, has an unusual way to read the stars, deciding to make up stories instead of following steps to make accurate predictions. When a violent explosion strikes the moons of Cancer, killing thousands of citizens — including its beloved guardian — Rho is surprised to be named the new leader of the House. As a true Cancrian who loves her home fiercely and will protect her people no matter what, Rho accepts. When more freak weather catastrophes occur, Rho starts to notice a pattern within the stars. Will anyone believe what this young novice says? How can she convince twelve worlds to unite as one Zodiac?

Romina Russell is a Los Angeles based author who originally hails from Buenos Aires, Argentina. When she’s not working on the Zodiac series, Romina can be found producing movie trailers and taking photographs. She is a graduate of Harvard College. This is her first novel.

Dan Smith
Oskari is a Finnish boy living in a remote mountain village who is just days away from his 13th birthday—but who must first pass an important test in order to become a man. Armed with a bow and arrow, he must spend a full day and night in the forest and hunt the most powerful animal he can find, who will determine what kind of man he will become. Not long after he sets out, the sky opens up and sends a strange object—and an unusual passenger—crashing down to the forest floor. He assumes it’s an alien until the passenger introduces himself... as the president of the United States. Air Force One has been sabotaged and crashed, leaving the president to run for his life. Will Oskari’s hunt prove that he is strong and brave enough to save both himself and the president? This action-packed adventure has been adapted into a major motion picture starting Samuel L. Jackson.
Dan Smith has lived in many places that inspire his writing - including Sierra Leone, Sumatra, Brazil, Spain, the Soviet Union, and Newcastle. El pescador de esponjas

The Sponge Fisherman

Susana Fernández Gabaldón

More than 3,500 years ago, one of Antiquity’s most remarkable civilizations arose in the Aegean Sea: the Minoans. According to the writings of ancient Greek historians, the mythical king Minos governed from his splendid palace of Knossos on the island of Crete. The Cretan civilization has inspired a countless number of adventure stories, such as that of Hector, a young sponge-diver with dreams of setting sail on mercantile ship like the one his father captains. This is an unforgettable tale of adventure and discovery that blends history with legend.

Susana Fernández Gabaldón studied archaeology at the Autonomous University of Madrid, and worked for 13 years as an archaeologist. She now devotes herself to writing history, adventure, mystery, and science-fiction books for children.

8 pasos para una espalda sin dolor

Recuerde cuando no dolía

A translation of 8 Steps to a Pain-Free Back (9780979303609)

Esther Gokhale

“The most lucid account I have read of how the human spine works, with handy lessons in how to stand, sit, walk, and sleep free of back pain.”

“Esther’s technique for treating chronic back pain is totally unique and her research really backs it up. This is a great tool for all of us.” —Billie Jean King, winner of 20 Wimbledon titles, on the English-language edition

“A great book for someone who is serious about achieving a pain-free back and willing to work to reach that goal.”

—American Association of Orthopaedic Surgeons, on the English-language edition

With a fresh approach to a common problem, this self-help guide to overcoming back pain advocates adopting the natural, healthy posture of athletes, young children, and people from traditional societies the world over. Arguing that most of what our culture has taught us about posture is misguided—even unhealthy—and exploring the current epidemic of back pain, many of the commonly cited reasons for the degeneration of spinal discs and the stress on muscles that leads to back pain are examined and debunked. The historical and anthropological roots of poor posture in Western cultures are studied as is the absence of back pain complaints in the cultures of Africa, Asia, South America, and rural Europe. Eight detailed chapters provide illustrated step-by-step instructions for making simple, powerful changes to seated, standing, and sleeping positions. No special equipment or exercise is required, and effects are often immediate.

Esther Gokhale, LAc, is the founder of the Esther Gokhale Wellness Center, a licensed acupuncturist, and the creator of the Gokhale Method™, a revolutionary approach that helps people achieve better health through better structure.

Adrián Sapetti

Every human being has basic needs for physical contact, intimacy, pleasure, tenderness, and love as part of their sexuality, and the right to get those needs met. However in many male-dominated societies, women have been denied such rights. This guide explores in depth the main issues women face when encountering their sexuality and teaches them practical ways to achieve pleasure and satisfaction in their pursuit for a more fulfilled sex life.

Adrián Sapetti is a psychiatrist, psychotherapist, and sexologist. He is an active member of several medical organizations, such as the Argentinean Psychiatric Association, the Argentinian Society of Human Sexuality, the International Academy of Medical Sexology, and the American Psychiatric Association.

Sexo y Sexualidad
Sex and Sexuality
Walter Ghedin

Years ago the split between procreative sex and sex for pleasure were rules governing people’s lives. This day in age, everything has changed. Psychoanalysis and various psychological theories have caused, for the good of all, an earthquake that determines these rigid concepts. The tendency to interpret and group emerging behaviors as “outside the norm” has led to create categories and restrictions. In this framework of encyclopedic knowledge, readers dig into the history of human sexuality and how it has changed in recent years.

Walter Ghedin is a psychiatrist and a professor at various schools and also trained in clinical sexology. He is the author of many titles on sexuality and psychology such as Tipos en la cama, Las enfermedades mentales,Tipos de huyen, among others.

Un año de punto
52 labores de temporada para primavera, verano, otoño e invierno
A translation of The Knitter’s Year (9781844008421)
Debbie Bliss

Anyone who has caught the knitting bug will know that knitters never like to be without a project on the go. So what could be better than a compendium of 52 designs that keep knitters busy throughout an entire year? Each of the projects in Un año de punto has been designed to be made in a week or less, with some being as quick to knit up as a rainy afternoon or a couple of evenings. Designs range from chunky scarves to adorable Easter-bunny egg cozies. Divided into the four seasons, this collection provides a blissful year of inspiration from a leading knitter.

Debbie Bliss is one of the most well-known designers and authors of knitting patterns in both the UK and US. Her most recent books, Simply Baby, Essential Baby and Essential Kids, demonstrate her flair for creating beautiful and practical garments for babies, toddlers and preschoolers. In 2008, she launched Debbie Bliss Knitting Magazine now published each fall and spring.

Correr para pensar y sentir
Run to Think and Feel
Francesc Torralba

The philosopher Francesc Torralba has been running every day for the past 25 years. He has participated in long-distance running, marathons, and fun runs, and here he shares with the reader his most personal experiences and feelings: how running gives him time to be alone and meditate, how it connects him to his own body, recharges his batteries, and ties him to nature and the environment. Throughout the book, Torralba explores the importance of this practice for his daily activities and his life attitude, given that “running is a perfect metaphor of life.”

Francesc Torralba studied philosophy at the University of Barcelona and theology at the Faculty of Theology in Catalonia. He is currently a professor at the Ramon Llull University in Barcelona and teaches courses and seminars in other universities in Spain and South America.

Los mitos
Su impacto en el mundo actual
A translation Myths to Live By (9780285647312)

Joseph Campbell

Myths make it possible to reveal realities inexpressible in philosophical abstractions—realities too profound for logical discourse. Joseph Campbell explores how myths that drove pre-scientific societies remain relevant today. Of course, ancient myths explained the cosmos and the origins of man through metaphors that have been replaced by science, but the unifying role of myth remains crucial and unknown in all societies. The author demonstrates how, across time and space, myth and religion have retained a strikingly similar set of archetypes.

Joseph Campbell was an American mythologist and one of the world’s premier authorities on the topic.

Welcome Pain
Pilar Sordo

As psychotherapist and researcher Pilar Sordo explains, pain is nothing more than a stretch of difficult terrain we must pass through in order to reach the elusive path to happiness. Acceptance, gratitude, and mindfulness are the qualities that permit us to admit pain into daily life and understand it as a necessary obstacle of well-being. If we can understand pain as a sort of travel companion, Sordo argues, we will be fully open to the richness and complexity of our life’s trajectory.

Pilar Sordo is a Chilean psychologist whose numerous self-help books have been best-sellers in Latin America. She is the author of ¡Viva la diferencia!, No quiero crecer, No quiero envejecer, and Lecciones de seducción, which have established her as one of the continent’s premier human development experts.

Perdonar lo imperdonable
Forgive the Unforgivable
Charles Cannon

In November 2008, an Islamic terrorist group attacked the city of Mumbai, India. Among their targets was the Hostel Oberai, where Master Charles Cannon, founder of the Synchronicity holistic meditation association, was staying. When Cannon and his associates were finally freed by police, they did the unthinkable: they publicly pardoned their aggressors. Narrating these harrowing experiences, Cannon reveals the spiritual convictions that have made him a source of inspiration and strength for millions of people.

Charles Cannon is a holistic educator and a celebrated spiritual master specializing in the art of meditation. In his youth, he was a disciple of Paramahansa Muktananda, one of the most respected Eastern mystics of the modern era.

El arte de envejecer
What do we Gain as we Get Older? a translation of the German, Was wir gewinnen, wenn wir älter werden (9783458176008)

Wilhelm Schmid

Modern society attempts to avoid aging at all costs. The process of growing older is often likened to a disease to be cured. Philosopher Wilhelm Schmid, in contrast, describes aging as a natural and necessary process. Rather than searching for eternal youth or turning away from the passage of time, he introduces an art of aging that offers opportunities to find enrichment in growing older. Sosiego is a jewel of practical philosophy.

Wilhelm Schmid is an independent philosopher as well as a visiting professor at the University of Erfurt.

Amores trágicos
Tragic Loves
Luis Benítez

Not all love stories end well. Although there is no concrete statistic, many do have bad endings that stick with you long after the story is over. This is a review of those stories throughout history that have disastrous endings. There are certain lines that can connect one story to another whether it is the time, personality of the parties involved, circumstances, etc. Here, the author particularizes and shows what it is that triggers these tragic endings.

Luis Benítez is a poet, novelist, essayist, and playwright. He has received numerous national and international awards for his writing. His work has been translated into 7 different languages.

The Great Gatsby
F. Scott Fitzgerald

Written with extraordinary insight and delicate prose, El gran Gatsby gives us a glimpse into the complexity characterizing North American society at the beginning of the 20th Century. Sophisticated taste, extravagant lifestyles, destructive obsessions, and loneliness are all clearly portrayed through Gatsby and his obsessive quest for a woman out of his reach. This novel and Fitzgerald’s short story of a man who starts life in his seventies and gets younger with time are included in this book.

F. Scott Fitzgerald was an American novelist, playwright, and essayist from the Jazz Golden Era. His other prominent books include This Side of Paradise, The Night Is Soft, and The Crack-Up.

The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde

For decades, Robert Louis Stevenson has been given a place of preeminence in the universal writers’ hall of fame. This is not surprising. While Stevenson rests in peace, his most notorious characters live on. His novel, The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, tells the story of a lawyer investigating bizarre events involving a good friend, Dr. Jekyll, who appears to have an evil second personality called Mr. Hyde. The phrase “Jekyll and Hyde” is still used to describe people with a devious moral character. This collection of classical stories written by Stevenson will take readers on a journey of suspense, terror, and adventure that will captivate their hearts and satisfy their need for thrilling experiences.

Robert Louis Stevenson was a prolific Scottish novelist, poet, and essayist known for his phenomenal imagination. His love for fantasy and adventure are reflected in all his writings, several of which have been made into movies.

The Best Sherlock Holmes Stories

Sherlock Holmes is perhaps the most famous literary character in the world, a model of justice and cleverness as well as enigma and eccentricity. His fans find him odd and uncanny at times but absolutely irresistible. In a tribute to this beloved character and his creator, writer and Sherlockian, Luis Benítez has compiled the most exemplary Sherlock Holmes stories in this collection. It includes the novel that gave him recognition, A Study in Scarlet, the novel that best represents his personality, Silver Blaze, the novel in which he died, The Final Problem, and the novel that saw his “resurrection”, The Adventure of the Empty House.

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was a Scottish doctor and mystery novelist, who wrote his first story when still a teenager. He also wrote historical fiction, poetry, nonfiction, and plays. Luis Benítez is a prolific Argentinean poet, essayist, and dramatist, and the recipient of several international literary awards. His writings have been published in many Latin American countries as well as the United States, and have been translated into 7 different languages.

El retrato de Dorian Gray
The Picture of Dorian Gray
Oscar Wilde

Dorian Gray is immortalized in a painting made by renowned artist Basil Hallward, who quickly realizes that this is his ultimate masterpiece. The painting reflects Gray’s beauty and gracefulness in such a way that it seems to take on a life of its own. And it does. From that point on, the painting starts aging but Gray himself remains young, gradually depicting a convoluted and bizarre relationship between the two of them. With somewhat sinister humor and a sharp honesty that contrasts the hypocrisy of his Victorian era, author Oscar Wilde has given us a classic that knows no barriers of time.

Oscar Wilde was a controversial Irish novelist, poet, and dramatist from the late 1800s who died an indigent. The Canterbury Ghost, The Happy Prince, The Importance of Being Earnest, and De Profundis are among his most prominent writings.

El proceso
The Process
Franz Kafka

Joseph K. awakes with a story that will forever change the course of his life: a process that has been initiated against him. Along the way he encounters women who want to help, men framed in the limits of their endowments and machinery that seem to feed on the individuality of human beings. One of the fundamental works of world literature, this title contains the force of a classic yet the estrangement of a nightmare that seems to have come true.

Franz Kafka received a PhD in Law from the University in Prague. His works express the anxieties and the alienation of 20th-century man.

Madame Bovary
Madame Bovary
Gustave Flaubert

Madame Bovary is arguably one of the most important books ever written. Considered a masterpiece for almost two centuries, it remains today as one of the most celebrated novels around the world. Flaubert tells the story of a woman who finds herself unhappy with her marriage, her life, and her age. For some, this title poses as a feminist manifesto but for others, it is an exaltation of the values of masculinity over women.

Gustave Flaubert was a French writer regarded as one of the greatest novelists in Western literature. His work includes Sentimental Education and The Temptation of St. Anthony.
Drácula, el vampirismo y Bram Stoker

Dracula, the Vampirism and Bram Stoker

Juan-Jacobo Bajarlia

The supernatural appeal of Stoker’s Dracula continues to hold readers spellbound more than a century after its initial publication. This work by Bajarlia is an important precedent in the study of vampirism. Through forceful and direct language, he analyzes Stoker’s vampire-triad. This essay includes four additional, unpublished chapters that serve as a crucial part to this retelling of a classic.

Juan Jacobo Bajarlia was a poet, writer, teacher, translator, and playwright. He is the author of El día cero, El endemoniado Sr. Rosetti, Historias secretas de putas, musas, y otras damas, among many others.

La metamorfosis y otros cuentos

Metamorphosis and Other Stories

Franz Kafka

Franz Kafka’s work signifies a milestone in world literature. La metamorfosis y otros cuentos condenses much of the public’s concern: the alienation of an individual, dissatisfaction and obligation to submit to their own freedom to the order of the institution. Stories such as “Ante la ley”, “El Viejo manuscrito” and “Preocupaciones de un padre de familia” are also included.

Franz Kafka received a PhD in Law from the University in Prague. His works express the anxieties and the alienation of 20th-century man.

El faro y la noche

The Lighthouse and the Night

Selena Millares

Julia is a historian, and for years she has participated in a monthly discussion with three old friends. She decides to mention her latest work, a book which reflects on art and violence through biographies. Immersed in her research, she is shaken by a discovery—the memoirs of an obscure poet and professor who suffered retaliation after the Spanish Civil War, whose pages reflect the same themes of the book she is writing. Woven throughout the novel are three narrative voices: the one who relays the discussions, one of the forgotten poet’s memoirs, and one of the book Julia is writing. Among the convergence and intersection of these three voices, perhaps the reader may find some answers to important open questions.

Selena Millares is the author of Páginas de arena, Isla del silencio, Cuadernos de Sassari, and Sueños del goliardo. She has also written literary essays, including La maldición de Scheherazade and La revolución secreta. Her work and research has led her to reside in various cities and since 1996 she has been a professor of literature at the Autonomous University of Madrid. In 2014, she unanimously won the Antonio Machado International Literature Prize for the novel El faro y la noche.

La divina comedia
The Divine Comedy
Dante Alighieri

A masterpiece of Italian literature written in the first half of the 14th century, La divina comedia can be read in its literal sense, as the author’s trip through hell, purgatory and paradise. However, the work is full of symbols, allegory, and profound explorations of moral philosophical explorations that have rendered it timeless.

Dante Alighieri formed part of the dolce stil nuovo poets who revolutionized Italian poetry in the 14th century and constituted a literary bridge between the Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

In Méjico, Antonio Ortuño presents two tales that traverse the Atlantic in a way like no one has before. This is a story of the militiamen who fled to Mexico following the failure of the Republican cause, but also a story of one of their descendants, living in Guadalajara, who is forced to flee to the Iberian continent in order to escape a sour settling of accounts with a local politician.

Antonio Ortuño is the author of Ánima, El buscador de cabezas, El jardín japonés, Recursos humanos, La Señora Rojo, and La fila india. Hank, Leland, Kip, and Ronny were all born and raised in the same Wisconsin town and are now coming into their own as husbands and fathers. One never left, still farming the family’s land that’s been tilled for generations, whereas the others did leave, with varying degrees of success; as a rock star, commodities trader, rodeo stud. Seamlessly woven into their patchwork is Beth. Seldom has the American heartland been so richly and accurately portrayed. Though the town may have changed, the one thing that hasn’t is the beauty of the Wisconsin farmland, the lure of which, in Nickolas Butler’s hands, emerges as a vibrant character in the story.

Marta Alcaraz has translated numerous authors, including Ann Beattie, David Gates, and Joyce Johnson. Nickolas Butler studied at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Iowa Writer’s Workshop. He is the author of the internationally best-selling novel Shotgun Lovesongs and a collection of short stories, Beneath the Bonfire.

Historias de un idiota

Albert Roquer

This is the story of Poe, a person who has considered himself an idiot since he’s had use of reason, and who, day after day, does nothing but prove his premature diagnosis as he confronts daily situations in the most delusional ways. Even though he is only 30 years old, his way of understanding life leads him constantly to engage in nonsensical scenes with characters of all kinds. Historias de un idiota is a humorous satire written in first person, with a strong ironic and sarcastic charge and a clear commitment to social criticism. Experiencing Poe’s quirkiness makes us laugh, have fun, and think. For him, everything is both easy and complicated at the same time, and his routine proves to be an entertaining way to face adversity.

Albert Roquer holds a degree in psychology, a diploma in sociology, and two master’s degrees related to the world of film and editing. He has won numerous prizes for his short stories, essays, and narratives. He is also the author of the novel El Mateix Dilluns.

Juan Cárdenas

"With this story, Cárdenas achieves, once again, a detailed description of the Latin American scene, not by mentioning the places or countries, but by the attitudes and accents of his characters."
— Verónica Figueroa, El País

Approaching fantasy, but with particularities that push it beyond the constraints of that genre, Ornamento details the encounter between a scientist and a group of volunteers, guinea pigs for a new recreational drug that solely affects women. After one of them, known only as Number 4, becomes romantically involved with the scientist and his wife, the couple finds their beliefs and assumptions—based in a position of socioeconomic privilege—shaken to the core.

La gran novela americana

A translation of The Great American Novel (9780099889403)

Philip Roth

“Roth is better than he’s ever been before.... The prose is electric.” —The Atlantic, on the English-language edition

“Shameless comic extravagance.... Roth gleefully exploits our readiness to let baseball stand for America itself.”

“Roth invents baseball anew, as pure slapstick.... An awesome performance.” —The New Republic, on the English-language edition

In this imaginative novel, Philip Roth converts the status of baseball from a national myth and pastime into the basis for biting satire, replete with heroism and treachery, wordplay, and an unforgettable cast of characters. Locked away in an asylum, once-famous sports journalist Word Smith attempts to write the great American novel through the story of one of the United States’ most celebrated baseball teams. The team’s epic feats in the now-defunct Patriot League were soon forgotten when, in the mid-1940s, a Communist conspiracy infiltrated the heart of the United States in an effort to destroy the American way of life from the inside. Starting with baseball, it sabotaged one of the country’s top baseball teams, and the fortunes of its leaders and players along with it.

Philip Roth won the Pulitzer Prize for American Pastoral in 1998. He is a two-time winner of the National Book Award and the National Book Critics Circle Award, and has received the PEN/Faulkner Award three times. In 2005, he became the third living American writer to see his work published by the Library of America.

Mercedes Roffé

“Powerful, deep, original, Mercedes Roffé’s work is one of the most remarkable examples of the struggle waged by poetry and continues to restore the meanings of the words that were stripped from them.” — Raúl Zurita, Poet

The poetry of Mercedes Roffé knows how to surround the silence, seduce the readers from an abyss feeling, and dares to skirt the limits in a plural sense. It is a return trip to the genesis and future of every word, a journey whose highest points happen whenever lightning appears. That is, whenever Roffé captures the poetic brilliance of words. She is currently one of the greatest voices in Argentine poetry. Some of the most sensitive aspects of human experiences are included in this ninth book of poems.

Mercedes Roffé is a poet, translator, and editor. She is the author of the poetry books El tapiz, Cámara baja, La opera fantasma, as well as the anthologies Antología poética, and Milenios caen de su vuelo. Her books have been translated into 5 languages.

Homenaje al camino
Tribute to the Road
Luis Alberto Ambroggio

“His voice is wise and philosophical. It has an inimitable cadence, a good sense of uncommon depth and profound dormant, because there is fire in the blue of Ambroggio, a telluric eroticism in his lyrical record.” — Oscar Hijuelos, novelist

Homenaje al camino demonstrates the essential quality of poet Luis Alberto Ambroggio in its immediacy. The compression of images is neither algebraic nor mystical and the poetic power is more noticeable than the frenzy that a dogma becomes. It is as if the poet would think in images rather than constructing them with words. In the old conception of metaphors, it is a sudden sense of recognition.

Luis Alberto Ambroggio is one of the most representative Hispanic writers in the United States. He is the author of eleven books of poetry such as La desnudez del asombro and La arqueología del viento.

Adonis

In his last trip to Mexico, the poet Adonis strolls through the streets of Mexico City, noticing the unique sounds, smells, colors, and the vibrant light being reflected in every house. It is those rooms within those houses that Adonis feels old images unfolding, answering his intuitions about the Maya, Nahua, and other inhabitants of this metropolis. Zócalo is the count-memory of the poet making his last trip to the city. A place full of nostalgia, this story will enlighten readers on the history of Mexico as well as the poet.

Breve antología de poesía mexicana impúdica, procaz, satírica y burlesca

The Short Anthology of Indecent, Lewd, Satirical, and Burlesque Mexican Poetry

Juan Domingo Argüelles

Mexican poetry has never shied away from satire, brazen humor, and even the risqué, a tradition not borrowed but rather inherited—Spanish poetry and novels have included references to sex and the scatological for centuries. In Mexico, the genre has also been used to voice biting social critiques. In this pocket anthology, Juan Domingo Argüelles delves deep into Mexico’s rudest, sharpest, and rebellious verses.

Juan Domingo Argüelles studied Spanish Literature at UNAM. He is an essayist, literary critic and editor. He is the author of Ustedes que leen, Antimano para lectores y promotores del libro y la lectura, La letra muerta and Escribir y leer con los niños, los adolescentes y los jóvenes. He is also responsible for the anthologies Dos siglos de poesía mexicana and Antología general de la poesía mexicana.

En el país del silencio

In the Land of Silence

Gerardo Cárdenas

In En el país del silencio, verses are outlined like impressionistic brushstrokes tracing images, some alongside others; powerful images that assault the reader like speechless convictions of metaphors brimming with meaning. One speaks in the ambivalent language of poetry about sex, emotions, the inconsistencies of culture and civilization, and the impassiveness of time. It is where one hears what cannot be spoken.

Gerardo Cárdenas was born in Mexico but currently lives in Chicago. He is the head of the magazine Contra tiempo. His collection of stories A veces lluvia en Chicago won the 2013 Carlos Montemayor Interamerican Prize. His poems and stories appear in anthologies and publications in several countries.

Esa luz que nos quema

That Light that Burns Us

José María Millares
Photographer Tato Gonçalves

In Esa luz que nos quema, there is a decisive element that reasserts Millares’ poetic voice: memory. A major leap toward the greatest sobriety of expression, toward a demand for thought, toward an essential cutting back of the poem occurs, as is observed, above all, in the successive series. This poem does not explain, it only speaks suggestively of that which envelops it.

José María Millares is a poet, composer, and sketcher. He founded the mythical Planas de poesía, which was closed down by police action and earned him detention, torture, and prison. With such memorable titles such as Liverpool, Manifestación de la paz and Ritmos alucinantes, his broad creative journey of unusual versatility and fruitfulness earned the prestigious Canary Island Literature Prize in 2009. In 2010, he was posthumously awarded the National Prize for Poetry.

Chantal Maillard

Now, more than ever, the reflection of art is perceived to be imminent, and it is because the very meaning has evaporated and lost its former relevance. “Making do,” as Chantal Maillard tells us, producing only dissatisfaction. “The great misfortune of the times is this dissatisfaction: the more the world of communication expands the more hollow it becomes.”

Chantal Maillard is a poet and essayist. She was a professor of aesthetics and art theory at the University of Malaga. She is the author of Matar a Platón, Hilos; seguido de Cual, Husos, Béllica, and many others.

Antimanual para lectores y promotores del libro y la lectura
Anti-Manual for Readers and People Who Promote Books and Reading
Juan Domingo Argüelles

In this bombastic anti-manual, Argüelles speaks out against many of the ideas we take for granted about books and reading—even the notion that a book, on its own, has the power to transform and improve a person’s life. Positioning himself against the unquestioned moral elevation of reading, he explores the true importance of the book and its potential for cultural impact.

Juan Domingo Argüelles studied Spanish Literature at UNAM. He is an essayist, literary critic and editor. Dora Maar

Alicia Dujovne

Dora Maar, the muse of Man Ray, companion of Louis Chavance and Gorges Bataille, Picasso’s mistress, was also known as “the weeping woman.” Alice Dujovne describes an era and invites us to travel with the stars of the avant-garde, on the pretext of meeting an iconic and mysterious woman. Written in a detective style as the author discovers new tracks step by step, the reader is led through events, relationships, and the psychology behind why Dora Maar was put in the asylum of Sainte-Anne in Paris, where she remained until her death in 1997.

Alicia Dujovne Ortiz began her extensive journalistic career in newspapers such as La Opinion. She is the author of La muneca rusa, Un corazón ten recio, ¿Quién mato a Diego Duarte?, Crónicas de la basura, and many others.

Mujeres que nacieron diferentes
Women Born Differently
Ana Riera

Stereotypes, lack of equal opportunities, and exclusion from political and cultural spheres are just some of the adversities faced by women throughout history. These adversities have often prevented women from expressing their thoughts and interests freely. This book, however, tells the stories of women who have contributed to a new perspective of our world. Legendary women such as Amelia Earhart, Katharine Hepburn, Josephine Baker, Coco Chanel, and Mae West are included.

Ana Riera is the author of many books and has translated many Spanish plays into English, including Celebración, Agosto, and La lobita.

Así es... Cézanne
A translation of This is Cezanne (9781780674780)
Jorella Andrews
Illustrations by Patrick Vale
Paul Cézanne was the pioneer in the development of new painting possibilities. He was remarkable for his ability to perceive and paint aspects of everyday life in ways that revealed dynamic, yet deeply harmonious visions of the world. But the intellectual and emotional difficulties of his achievements were considerable. Mainly self-taught, most of his career was plagued by rejection. Both the critics and the public disliked his paintings, and in 1884 Cézanne declared that Paris, the centre of the nineteenth-century art world, had defeated him. He then retreated into a world filled with self-doubt and bad temper.

Jorella Andrews is a senior lecturer in the Visual Cultures department at Goldsmiths, University of London. She is the author of Showing Off! Patrick Vale is an internationally recognized illustrator best known for his work based on cities and architecture. Among his recent projects is the time-lapsed film, Empire State of Pen.

Así es... Matisse
A translation of This is Matisse (9781780674797)
Catherine Ingram
Illustrations by Agnès Decourchelle
Trained originally in the French classical manner, Matisse was inspired by the Impressionists and Cézanne to create a style that brought out the beauty of color, form and line by reducing them to the bare essentials. While considered a leader of the Fauves and an inspiration to most of the great figures in modern art, he wasn’t interested in being associated with any school or trend. A family man who worked ‘office hours’ in his studio, he defies the image of the artist as a tortured soul. In a career spanning six decades, he produced masterpiece after masterpiece that constantly challenge how we perceive color and form.

Catherine Ingram is an art historian. She has taught at Christie’s and the Tate Gallery and lectured at Imperial College. Agnès Decourchelle received her diploma in illustration in Paris and an MA in Art and Design Communication.

Así es... Van Gogh
A translation of This is Van Gogh (9781780674803)
George Roddam
Illustrations by Slawa Harasymowicz
Vincent van Gogh used art to express his intensely emotional response to the world around him. Enraptured by the beauty of nature and tormented by the sorrows of human existence, he produced, in his tragically short life, some of the most powerfully expressive paintings ever seen. Many have made the mistake of thinking him mad, though he did suffer periods of mental anguish throughout his life. However, Van Gogh’s paintings are not the works of a madman.

George Roddam has taught art history at universities in the UK and US. His research focuses primarily on European modernisms. Slawa Harasymowicz is a Polish artist based in London. Following the release of the graphic novel The Wolf Man, she had a solo exhibition at The Freud Museum.

El Papa Francisco y el nuevo Vaticano

A translation of Pope Francis and the New Vatican (9781426215827)

Robert Draper
Photographer Dave Yoder

This behind-the-scene look of the new papacy includes unprecedented, exclusive access to Pope Francis. Embedded with the Pope inside the Vatican for 6 months, award-winning photographer David Yoder captures intimate moments in never-before-seen photographs presented here for the first time—including in the Sistine Chapel with the Pope alone on Christmas Day. These extraordinary images reveal the majesty and splendor of the Vatican alongside the humbleness of the man changing it. The pontiff’s public life and personal crusades are exposed as never before, as well as the inner workings of the Vatican. The book also features a timeline, maps, and Pope Francis’s most inspiring words of wisdom. The “people’s Pope” has electrified the world with his message of mercy and humility, energizing the Catholic Church and appealing to people of every faith. Vivid reporting and world-class photography present a captivating view of Pope Francis and his remarkable papacy. This glorious celebration of the new pontiff is a lasting keepsake of a historic event.

Robert Draper is a contributing writer to National Geographic and the New York Times Magazine and a correspondent for GQ. He is the author of several books, including the New York Times bestseller Dead Certain and Do Not Ask What Good We Do. Alda Merini
Translator Jeannette L. Clariond

“Alda Merini returns to dazzle us with her ever-present voice, with each word stubbornly sinking into reality to bring clarity that dazzles us, yet, paradoxically, makes us see.”
— Jeannette L. Clariond, Translator

One of the signs of our time is undoubtedly the lack of humanity that can be seen in all walks of life regardless of origin, status or age. In Francisco: Canta de una criatura, Alda Merini shows the reader, through the words of Eliot, that “humanity is infinite,” as if she has known all along that only this humanity exists. It makes its way through us as we get to know one another, asking to be heard, seen, and treated the same way as the Saint Francis of Assisi heard, saw, and treated others. Alda Merini returns to dazzle us with her ever-present voice, with each word stubbornly sinking into reality to bring clarity to all.

Alda Merini is the author of La presenza di Orfeo, La tierra santa, and Baladas no pagodas. She frequently was a candidate for the Nobel Prize for Literature. Jeannette L. Clariond grew up between three languages: Arabic, English and Spanish. She has translated numerous American and Italian titles and is the director of the publishing house, Vaso Roto Ediciones.

Qué nos espera en el más allá
El viaje entre la vida y la muerte
What Awaits Us in the Afterlife
Daniel Behar

In this book, Daniel Behar explores interface, or the idea of life between lives. He details cases of people who have returned to our earth after death, with the aim of helping readers understand the soul’s path through physical bodies. Death, for Behar, is simply a threshold of consciousness separating one incarnation from another.

Daniel Behar is the author of Un buen morir and Cuando la vida ya no es vida. He is a scholar with a wide view of death and the psychological, social, and physical phenomena that surround it.

The social and cultural tests that the Palestinians have faced during the past 60 years bring to life this mosaic of experiences and historical landmarks. The author shares her own memoirs and experiences in Palestine and presents the interviews she conducted with the elders expelled from their land when the nation of Israel was established in 1948. She argues that the indifference of the Western powers has allowed the erosion of the Palestinian state and tracks the development of what she calls “the Zionist Project,” which began in Europe in the 19th century, at the same time she unravels history thread-by-thread.

Teresa Aranguren received her bachelor’s degree in philosophy from the Complutense University of Madrid, and she also has a diploma in psychology and anthropology from the University of Madrid. In 1980, she moved to Jordan with her husband to teach Spanish classes at Yarmouk University. There she came into contact with the plight of the Palestinian refugees, and that experience, in turn, determined the course of her personal and professional life.

La caída de Berlin
The Fall of Berlin
José Luís Caballero

On April 20, 1945, Hitler turned 56 years old, and the Russian artillery surrounded Berlin. Every house, street, and neighborhood tried to impede the enemy’s advance. The events that preceded Berlin’s fall are compiled through the stories in this book. The stories depict both the savage fanaticism of the forces as well as humanity’s ability to endure even the most insufferable circumstances.

José Luís Caballero is a journalist with a degree in Information Science from the Autonomous University of Barcelona. He is an expert on International Relations and Secret Services. He has published numerous novels, including Como lágrimas en la lluvia, Las cartas de Antioquia, and El espía imperfecto.

Pere Romanillos

The courage of a few brave men during World War II are told in this series of short stories. These commandos, part of a small group of assault troops, were subjected to extreme physical training. Each story tells of the acts these individuals engaged in as they entered into the enemy’s territory. Among the many unconventional and key tasks assigned to these commandos were sabotage, intelligence, ambushes, and capture or release of hostages.

Pere Romanillos is passionate about stories that tell of human history. He is the author of educational books, such as Grandes errores de la humanidad and Memuda chiripa, and the collections Grandes personajes universals and Grandes Enigmas de la humanidad.

The Burning Wick

Ramón Tarruella

Weeks before the 14th of November, 1909, police chief Ramón Falcón followed the steps of Pablo Karaschini, who apparently led a violent group of anarchists. No one thought to follow Simón Radowitzky, an 18-year-old Ukranian who designed a bomb, acting on his own. This book covers the most significant anarchist bombings in Argentina’s history, rebuilding the context and personalities involved. La mecha encendida can also be read as a collection of stories, framed in key moments, though driven by the same ideals.

Ramón D. Tarruella works as a teacher in a secondary school and coordinates writing workshops. He has worked in journalism, national newspapers, and cultural and general interest magazines.

Tell Me What’s Wrong and I’ll Tell You What Movie to Watch

Sandra S. Lopera and Lara Malvesí

A movie can transport us back to a lost moment in time or can remind us of a loved one. Movies have the power to give people strength during difficult times, and they can serve as do-it-yourself manuals to carry people through life. In this fun book, the authors suggest answers to everyday challenges taken from movies throughout history. For example, a fear of commitment might lead one to watch Breakfast at Tiffany’s, or if one is experiencing a mid-life crisis, American Beauty might be the movie to turn to.

Carmen Abarca, Miguel Casamayor, Jordi Falguera, and Mercé Sarrias

The extraordinary success of Game of Thrones, Modern Family and Breaking Bad is no accident. The public becomes so involved in TV series, especially those that have originated in the United States. This fun guide describes the best TV series in history, from The Twilight Zone to Game of Thrones, and shares fun facts about a genre that seems to be here for the long haul.

The Exploits of Superheroes and Physics

Sergio L. Palacios

People do not typically watch science fiction movies with the intention of unravelling the scientific mysteries behind their spectacular scenes such as superheroes’ preposterous exploits, dizzying spaceship voyages, and apocalyptic weapons. However, some people like to explore the possibility of Hollywood’s crazy ideas becoming reality. Could Superman really shape a planet to make it cubic instead of spherical? Is science able to give life to monsters such as Frankenstein? Are we in danger of being attacked by something from space? This book addresses these questions and more from a scientific point of view.

Árboles de Tamoanchan

Daniel Lezama: Trees of Tamoanchan
Erik Castillo Corona

The recent work of Daniel Lezama has the thematic core of Tamoanchan mythology, a utopian and Edenic region for the Mesoamerican people, in which origin and purpose wonderfully mix with life and history. In the series of pictures included in this book, Lezama has subordinated the mythological reference ‘place of flowering ground’ to function as the central narrative of his painting. In a new set revisiting a themed painting from his early 90’s, Lezama has returned to the image of Adam and Eve.

Erik Castillo Corona is a critic and an independent art curator. He studied at the National School of Plastic Arts of UNAM and has been responsible for several exhibitions for the artist Pedro Diego Alvarado. He currently teaches at the Casa Lamm Cultural Center as a member of the Project Review Committee for temporary exhibitions at the Museum of Modern Art in Mexico.

La entereza de los cuerpos despedazados

Javier Marín
Néstor Braunstein

This unique book is the result of a meeting between the Mexican sculptor Javier Marín and a psychoanalyst Néstor Braunstein. The intention here is not “applied” psychoanalysis to the expressionist vision of the human body, but rather it is the artist who poses the question through his work. The viewer, critic and art historian are all surprised by the unexpected transformation of the configured body. The viewer and the psychoanalyst have no choice but to dissect the art in front of them, and here they bring the reader along with them.

Néstor Braunstein is a psychiatrist and psychoanalyst. He is the co-author, editor, and author of hundreds of publications and 25 books, several of which have been translated into Portuguese, English and French. His most popular works include Psicología: ideología y ciencia, El goce: un concepto lacaniano and Clasificar en psiquiatría.

Compro, luego existo
I Buy, Therefore I Am
Guadalupe Loaeza

With her usual wit and poignancy, Guadalupe Loaeza delivers a series of stories as entertaining as they are revealing. At first, the characters and situations seem to simply be imaginations and stories made up by the author. However, one can take a look at Mexico’s history of the past three decades and realize that everything described is a part of the national, tragic reality. The men and women throughout these pages are representative of a particular social sector whose habits, attitudes, and behaviors are described with meticulous realism.

Guadalupe Loaeza has worked at national newspapers such as La Jornada and Reforma. She is the author of many books such as Mujeres maravillosas, Ellas y nosotras, Parejas, Las niñas bien, 25 años después and many more.

Cómo adiestrar a tu perro
Técnicas sencillas y efectivas sin castigos ni maltratos
How to Train your Dog
Diego Krzychowiec and Juan Carlos Busquets

No dog breed is dangerous, dumb, or disobedient per se; a dog’s behavior depends on how well it has been trained. Drawing on this premise, this manual teaches dog owners how to stop a dog from jumping on guests, barking in the middle of the night, running out the door, destroying household items, biting — and start being a joyful, pleasant companion. With clear, easy to follow guidelines and photos, dog owners are guided through a path of discovery and enlightenment, and equipped with all the necessary tools to teach their beloved pets to speak a common language of obedience.

Diego Krzychowiec is an Argentinean dog trainer who began studying animal coaching techniques in Europe in 2000, and now trains dogs for sporting competitions. Juan Carlos Busquets is also an Argentinean dog trainer and a member of the Argentinean German Shepherd Club. He has directed animal sports-education seminars in Europe and the United States.

Hard Rock
Historia, cultura, artistas y álbumes fundamentales

Andrés López Martínez

From The Kinks and Deep Purple to Guns N’ Roses and Kiss, hard rock bands express a feeling of rebellion and rejection toward all religious morals while imparting energy and passion at the same time. Hard rock roots can be traced back to the late 1960s and early 1970s with the emergence of bands such as The Jimi Hendrix Experience. Initially a spontaneous product of the blues era, hard rock has established its own patterns and has given birth to subgenres such as heavy metal and grunge. This book explores the hard rock phenomena and its most famous bands, including Aerosmith, Alice Cooper, Deep Purple, and Led Zeppelin.

Andrés López Martínez is a writer, critic, and music journalist, working for newspapers Regiô 7 and 20 Minutes, and magazines Individu Ocult and BLife. He has published biographies and music essays including a collection on Elvis Presley and biographies of The Beatles, Jim Morrison, Freddie Mercury, and Julio Iglesias.

Rockabily
Historia, cultura, artistas y álbumes fundamentales

Manuel López Poy

A crossroads of old blues, gospel, rhythm and blues, and country gave life to the sound that revolutionized the youth’s universe: the sound of rock ‘n’ roll. Rock ‘n’ roll was created and shaped by country boys moving to the city, young boys such as Elvis Presley, Jerry Lee Lewis, Carl Perkins, Buddy Holly, and the Burnett Brothers. This book is a comprehensive description of the key musicians that shaped rock ‘n’ roll’s legend, as well as one of its main subgenres, rockabilly.

Manuel López Poy is a journalist and writer. He is the author of several books on African American music, such as Soul y Rhythm & Blues, Entre el cielo y el infierno, and Historia social del blues.

How to Successfully Prepare for a Concert or Audition
Rafael García Martínez

What distinguishes a great concert from a simple musical performance? Of course, the proper repertoire is of utmost importance, but the score’s sentiment must also be transmitted successfully to the listening audience. In this book, Rafael García Martínez teaches musicians how to effectively prepare for a musical performance, sharing thoughts about a performance’s technical elements and the mental preparation process.

Rafael García Martínez is a Doctor of Psychology from University of Valencia and a pioneering professor of the Alexander Technique in Spain. He is also a professor at the Conservatory of Music in Aragon and the author of the books Optimiza tu actividad musical and Técnica Alexander para músicos.

Musical Language
Josep Jofré i Fradera

Musical language has been developed through the use and needs of composers to express their auditory ideas in visual form. In this book, Josep Jofré combines a historical perspective with a detailed and clear explanation of the foundations of modern musical notation. This book provides useful guidelines for gradual learning geared toward music students, lovers and enthusiasts. It provides teachers with invaluable teaching tips for making musical learning a more engaging experience.

Josep Jofré i Fradera is the founder of the Jove de la Selva Orchestra, an educational project involving middle-school students in Spain. He has studied under the famous composers Benet Casablancas and Carles Guinovart, and has performed as a flutist for the National Philharmonic Orchestra of Moldova, the Orchestra of Cambra de l’Empordà, and the Orchestra Musici de Praga.

Ser músico y disfrutar de la vida
Una guía práctica sobre el músico y la vida que le rodea
Be a Musician and Enjoy Life
Joan Maria Martí

Feelings, circumstances, thoughts, and ideas can be beautifully expressed through music. The musician helps transmit these feelings through his or her music. This book explores the musician as both a student and as a teacher. It looks at the relationships a musician has with colleagues, family members, friends, and even with his or her instrument.

Joan Maria Martí is currently working toward his Masters in Musicology, Music Education, and Interpretation of Ancient Music at the Superior School of Music (ESMUC) in Barcelona, Spain.

La chica del grupo

A translation of Girl in a Band (9780062295897)

Kim Gordon

“Kim Gordon writes the way she plays. Fiercely, honestly, and with the creative abandon of a singular artist.” — Amy Poehler on the English-language edition

“I’ve always admired Kim Gordon. She is cool, smart, and dignified. Girl in a Band is a fascinating and honest memoir full of raw emotion and insight.” — Sofia Coppola, on the English-language edition

“Written with the same cool passion she brings to her lyrics, Gordon delivers a generous look at life inside the punk whirlwind.” — Kirkus Reviews, on the English-language edition

“Gordon’s career as a musician, artist, critic, performer, producer, and designer spanned the last truly hip era of downtown New York. The names and the nostalgia—for those who remember or who wish they did—are well worth the price of admission.” — Booklist, on the English-language edition

• English-language edition sold more than 25,000 copies

In the early 1980s, Kim Gordon, along with her future husband, Thurston Moore, and guitarist Lee Ranaldo, formed one of the most innovative, influential, and prolific bands of the American independent music scene, Sonic Youth. Girl in a Band is the first-person account from one of rock’s greatest female icons, a woman who, like Patti Smith, Janis Joplin, or Marianne Faithfull, fought to find her place in an overwhelmingly masculine and often sexist world. This book critically explores the point of view of a woman who forged a path for herself in a world where testosterone still rules.

Kim Gordon is the celebrated former vocalist and bassist for Sonic Youth, one of the most important and influential rock bands in recent decades.

Maldito United

A translation of The Damned Utd (9781612193700)

David Peace

“Probably the best novel ever written about sport.” — The Times (UK), on the English-language edition

“One of the most insightful portrayals ever put to print of the insecurity, pride, and vanity that make up the greater part of nearly any successful coach’s character.” — Deadspin, on the English-language edition

“Shakespearean in its scale, ambition, depth and elements of tragedy, farce and betrayal.” — Independent, on the English-language edition

“In 1974, the brilliant yet controversial soccer coach, Brian Clough, took the reins as manager of Leeds United, the team that had won the league championship the season before under Don Revie. Clough’s fleeting and fateful time with Leeds wouldn’t last long. This book tells the story of the legendary Clough’s 44 days trying to turn around a corrupt institution without being corrupted himself. With severe and obsessive prose, Peace builds the tale of a man driven insane by boundless ambition. This outstanding piece of documentary fiction brings to life some of the most charged and intense days in British soccer.”

David Peace earned a degree from Manchester Polytechnic. In 1991 he moved to Istanbul to serve as a professor of English, a position he would later continue in Tokyo from 1994 to 2009. In 2003, David Peace was included in Granta magazine’s list of the twenty best British authors. He is also the author of GB84 and Red Riding.

Ponga un robot en su vida
Put a Robot in your Life
Jorge Blaschke
Artificial intelligence and robotics are changing the world as we know it. In modern society, the role of robots range from assisting with surgical procedures to transporting heavy equipment and translating languages. However, will robots ever have feelings? This book explores robotics in a fun way, describing human-brain simulators, nano-robots, pal-robotics, and drones. Additionally, the author discusses what might become humanity’s biggest challenge: the dangers that robots bring with them.

Jorge Blaschke is an award-winning journalist, a radio director, and a TV-documentary producer. He has written more than 50 books on religion, the occult, and meditation, including Más allá de Conny Méndez and Más allá de lo que tú sabes. Blaschke has also studied astronomy and paleontology and has co-directed archaeological expeditions to Algeria.
