BUCKET FILLERS MAY
Bucket Filling from A to Z
The Key to Being Happy
Carol McCloud and Caryn Butzke
Illustrations by Glenn Zimmer

This award-winning book uses the letters of the alphabet to help young and old see the many, simple ways that they can fill buckets and fill their own buckets in return. When you help children become bucket fillers, you give them the key to happiness—for it is in friendship, love, and good will to others that we are truly happy. Yes, bucket filling is the moment by moment choice to be kind and caring. Teaching and encouraging children to be bucket fillers is one of the greatest gifts you can give to them.

Since her first book, Have You Filled a Bucket Today? A Guide to Daily Happiness for Kids, was published in 2006, Carol McCloud has authored or coauthored seven additional books on “bucket filling.” With a small team of educators, she travels around the world with one goal in mind: to help create happier lives. Carol is a graduate of Oakland University School of Education (Rochester, MI), a certified Emotional Intelligence Trainer, and long-time member of the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). Caryn Butzke is the business manager for Bucket Fillers, Inc. She has worked a combined twenty years in business management, computer information systems, and web design. It’s her genuine love for children and her son, Drew, that inspired her to co-author this book.

Have You Filled a Bucket Today?
Daily Acts of Love Around the World
10th Anniversary Edition
Carol McCloud
Illustrations by David Messing

This heartwarming book encourages positive behavior by using the concept of an invisible bucket to show children how easy and rewarding it is to express kindness, appreciation, and love by “filling buckets.” Updated and revised, this 10th anniversary edition will help readers better understand that it’s possible to fill or dip into our own buckets.

Since her first book, Have You Filled a Bucket Today? A Guide to Daily Happiness for Kids, was published in 2006, Carol McCloud has authored or coauthored seven additional books on “bucket filling.” With a small team of educators, she travels around the world with one goal in mind: to help create happier lives. Growing Up with a Bucket Full of Happiness
Three Rules for a Happier Life
Carol McCloud
Illustrations by Penny Weber

Do you know you have an invisible bucket which is filled with all of your good thoughts and feelings? If you’re new to the concepts of bucket filling and bucket dipping, then this award-winning book is for you. This sequel to Have You Filled a Bucket Today? features easy-to-read chapters, colorful illustrations, and daily questions to help readers become better bucket fillers and give them the tools to live a life filled with happiness.

Will You Fill My Bucket?
Daily Acts of Love Around the World
Carol McCloud and Karen Wells
Illustrations by Penny Weber

A simple question, Will You Fill My Bucket?, is fervently asked by children from twelve different countries. Sweet rhyming prose and vividly captivating illustrations delight the senses and express the deep joy and love we hope for all children. Will You Fill My Bucket? and the responses given will touch the heartstrings of people young and old around the world. Bucket filling, the essence of being loved and loving others, occurs in those little moments in a day when you stop and just listen, cuddle, play, or spend time with a child.

The Jelly Donut Difference
Sharing Kindness with the World
Maria Dismondy
Illustrations by P.S. Brooks

Leah and Dexter are brother and sister. They don’t always get along. In fact, there are times they can be downright mean to each other. The ooey, gooey jelly donuts in this story are a testament to the power of kindness, caring and generosity. Find out if Leah and Dexter will ever learn to get along! Bite into the power of paying it forward by adding The Jelly Donut Difference to your family’s home collection or classroom library.

Maria Dismondy has been writing children’s books for almost a decade. Before that, she was a teacher in Michigan’s public schools. Holding a Masters degree in curriculum and research, Maria knows what type of children’s literature is needed in the classroom and at home. Maria resides in Southeast Michigan with her husband Dave and three book-loving children. P.S. Brooks is a YA writer and children’s illustrator based in Yorkshire, UK. He is a graduate in Fine Art and works primarily in Photoshop using scanned textures such as pastels, paints and other media. He has worked in video games and enjoys connecting with other writers and illustrators online. When not illustrating or writing, he likes to watch fantasy and sci-fi movies and shows, and also plays with his Sheltie guinea pigs Little Jupiter and Big Jupiter.

Spaghetti in a Hot Dog Bun
Having the Courage To Be Who You Are
Maria Dismondy
Illustrations by Kim Shaw

How can Ralph be so mean? Lucy is one of a kind and Ralph loves to point that out. Lucy’s defining moment comes when Ralph truly needs help. Because she knows what she stands for, Lucy has the courage to make a good choice. This charming story empowers children to always do the right thing and be proud of themselves, even when they are faced with someone as challenging as Ralph.

Maria Dismondy is an award-winning author, specializing in books about challenges children face. As a sought-after speaker, Maria spreads her message by presenting at schools and conferences across the country. Maria lives in southeastern Michigan.

Wanda’s Better Way
Laura Pedersen
Illustrations by Penny Weber

“A very timely story for all ages, pointing out the desirability of unplugged family time.” —BookLoons on Unplugged

Young Wanda is a girl on a mission; she wants to decide what to do when she grows up. Will she be a dancer? A landscape designer? Maybe a pastry chef? Her teachers and parents all make suggestions, but Wanda sets out to explore each option on her own. Along the way she invents a clever pulley system, a squirrel-proof bird feeder, and the best way to separate eggs. With the school career fair (and adulthood) looming on the horizon, what will Wanda decide? From the award-winning children’s author Laura Pedersen comes Wanda’s Better Way, an educational picture book about believing in yourself and pursuing your passion.

Laura Pedersen is an author and playwright. A former New York Times columnist, Laura has written over a dozen books for adults and children, including Unplugged, Ava’s Adventure, and Life in New York: How I Learned to Love Squeegee Men, Token Suckers, Trash Twisters, and Subway Sharks. Unplugged won a Mom’s Choice Gold Award, a Moonbeam Children’s Book Bronze Award for best picture book, and a Skipping Stones Honor Award. Laura has appeared on The Oprah Winfrey Show, Good Morning America, CBS This Morning, The Today Show, Primetime, and The Late Show with David Letterman. Connect with her at www.LauraPedersenBooks.com. Penny Weber lives in Holbrook on Long Island, New York. Since attending the School of Visual Arts 20 years ago, she has worked as a muralist, greeting card artist and most recently as an illustrator for the children’s market. Penny’s work can be found in many books for children as well as educational projects, including Unplugged: Ella Gets Her Family Back, Chris P. Bacon: My Life So Far..., and Ava’s Adventure. I Want to Be a Reader!
Mark Powers
Illustrations by Maria Montag

A simple celebration of a major milestone: learning to read! It will take a lot of hard work: learning the letters, turning the pages, saying the words. But that hard work will pay off—maybe sooner than this little boy thinks! The story ends with a hopeful message to toddlers that someday, they can be readers too.

Percussionist Mark Powers resides in Portland, Oregon and is often an Artist-in-Residence at schools around the country. Regularly found writing both text and musical notation, Mark focuses on literacy with his students and loves any opportunity to be a “reading buddy.” Maria Montag is an artist from Cincinnati, OH.

Brick by Brick

Giuliano Ferri

A little mouse innocently plucks a flower from an old wall when a brick comes loose, and he can see through it for the first time. He and the other animals gradually and resolutely remove more and more bricks, until at last they can see another group of animals. Together they use the bricks that once divided them to construct a bridge to join their islands. This clever and touching wordless board book shows that walls can become bridges when everyone works together. It’s a hopeful message that all children should see now.

Giuliano Ferri is a graduate of the Urbino Institute of Art where he specialised in animation and the award winning illustrator of children’s books. His work has been exhibited at Bologna International Children’s Book Fair for more than a decade, and in museums around the world. Mr. Ferri also works with young people with disabilities, using animation and comic theater as therapy. He is illustrator of Luke and the Little Seed, Nino’s Magical Night, and The Snowball from minedition.

Baby Unplugged

Written by pediatrician Dr. John Hutton, this series of board book was inspired as a response to the explosion of screen-based products marketed as educational. It is a celebration of timeless childhood experiences and icons—blankets, yards, pets, books, blocks—that are each a catalyst for togetherness and rooted in how developing brains work.

Dr. John Hutton is a pediatrician, author, and owner of the award-winning blue manatee children’s bookstore in Cincinnati, OH. He lives in Cincinnati, OH. Sarah Jones is an artist and author. Setria James is the author of over 20 educational activity-coloring books, one of which is a first place winner of the Purple Dragonfly book awards. Her latest titles are Doodles Anatomy Coloring Fun and Doodles Animal Kingdom Coloring Fun. Setria is a graduate of Texas Woman’s University, where she earned a Bachelors in Fine Arts and a Masters of Art, each with a concentration on graphic design. During her graduate studies, Setria explored the effects of imagery on children and their development. It was this research that brought her to the “Doodles Coloring Fun” book series. Understanding the power of combining learning opportunities with coloring fun has catalyzed the activity-coloring book series forward.
Blue and Red Make Purple
A musical journey with Jennifer Gasoi
Jennifer Gasoi
Illustrations by Steve Adams

This book with a CD of irresistible songs offers children the opportunity to discover the different colors of Gasoi’s jazz-driven music, a melding of many styles including bluegrass, blues, cajun, calypso, and klezmer. Blue and Red Make Purple is catchy, tuneful, playful, and totally endearing! Notes highlighting the history, instruments and unique characteristics of each musical genre along with listening suggestions accompanying each song.

Steve Adams has illustrated several books for children, including the award-winning picture book The Boy Who Grew Flowers. He lives in Montreal. Jennifer Gasoi is a Grammy Award winning and two-time Juno nominated musician. She performed for two consecutive years at the Vancouver International Jazz Festival and has released two self-produced children’s albums. She presently lives in Montreal.

I Know an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly
Alan Mills
Illustrations by PisHier

The children’s classic “I Know an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly,” for which singer-songwriter Alan Mills is best known, precedes a potpourri of simple singable songs, often focusing on numbers and letters and featuring hysterically funny animal characters. Singers Thomas Hellman and Emilie Clepper breathe new life into old traditions, performing rootsy renditions of catchy songs written for children more than 50 years ago.

Alan Mills was a Canadian folksinger, writer, and actor. He was best known for popularizing Canadian folk music, and he composed the classic folk song “I Know an Old Lady Who Swallowed a Fly” (with lyrics by Rose Bonne). PisHier is an illustrator, painter, and animator whose work has been published in several Canadian magazines and newspapers. He has also illustrated several children’s books, including Monstres secret de legumes and Simone et la plus belle journée d’été. He lives in Quebec City.

Knit, Hook, and Spin
A Kid’s Activity Guide to Fiber Arts and Crafts
Laurie Carlson

This easy-to-follow activity book is packed with over 70 projects across a variety of fiber arts including knitting, felting, knotting and braiding, spinning, weaving, crocheting, and dyeing. Kids will learn to felt a bag, braid a rug, weave a tapestry, knit comfy slippers, crochet a belt, make and use natural dyes, and make dozens of other projects. Along the way they’ll learn about Viking ships’ woolen sails, the history of rope bridges, Japan’s yearly Straw Festival, the invention of the spinning machine, and much more.

Laurie Carlson is the author of over 20 nonfiction books for children and adults including Colonial Kids, Days of Knights and Damsels, More Than Moccasins, Westward Ho, and others. She operates an artisanal yarn store on her farm and speaks to local groups about goats, sheep, and fiber arts. She lives in Dallas, OR.

Three-Dimensional Art Adventures
36 Creative, Artist-Inspired Projects in Sculpture, Ceramics, Textiles, and More
Maja Pitamic and Jill Laidlaw

Three-dimensional art is bold, tactile, and fun—in other words, perfect for children who love to get their hands dirty. Three-Dimensional Art Adventures introduces young artists to groundbreaking masterpieces and fresh techniques, then lets them loose. Each chapter covers a movement or category of three-dimensional art: Early Sculpture, Modern Sculpture, Installation, Ceramics, Collage, and Textiles. Projects begin with a story of a famous work—Louise Bourgeois’s Maman, Claes Oldenburg’s Trowel, Ai Weiwei’s Forever Bicycles—followed by a question-and-answer section. Then it’s time to hit the brushes, or charcoal, or scissors. The projects cover a wide range of media, from themed collages to clay sculptures to Cubist-inspired tapestries, with a variety of difficulty levels, always encouraging and expanding the child’s natural creative abilities.

Maja Pitamic is the coauthor of Modern Art Adventures and the popular Art in Action books. She has over twenty years’ experience teaching young children and holds degrees in art history and Montessori teacher training. Jill Laidlaw has been writing and editing children’s and adult nonfiction since 1990, including Modern Art Adventures. She has a degree in art history from the University of St. Andrews.
Modern Art Adventures
36 Creative, Hands-On Projects Inspired by Artists from Monet to Banksy
Maja Pitamic and Jill Laidlaw

- Co-op available

Modern Art Adventures introduces young artists to groundbreaking masterpieces and fresh techniques, then lets them loose to create their own works of art. Authors and educators Maja Pitamic and Jill Laidlaw explore the stories and meanings behind 18 well-known works of modern art—including Frida Kahlo’s Self-portrait with Small Monkey, Edvard Munch’s The Scream, Jackson Pollock’s Lavender Mist, and Banksy’s Flower—giving readers inspiration for these kid-tested, exciting, and creative projects. Children create two artworks based on the techniques and visual effects of each featured piece of art and the projects cover a wide range of media, from tissue paper mosaics to stencils to comic cut-outs, with a variety of difficulty levels, always encouraging and expanding the child’s natural creative abilities. No prior knowledge of modern art is required, just enthusiasm for the subject and a willingness to discover.

Maja Pitamic has taught art to young children for nearly 20 years. She is the author of the popular Art Adventure books, Child’s Play, and I Can Do It. Jill Laidlaw is the author of several books, including Frida Kahlo, Paul Klee, and other works on the history of Western painting and sculpture. They both live in New York City.

An Eye for Art
Focusing on Great Artists and Their Work
National Gallery of Art

- Co-op available

Lavishly illustrated with hundreds of full-color images, this family-oriented art resource introduces children to more than 50 great artists and their work, with corresponding activities and explorations that inspire artistic development, focused looking, and creative writing. This treasure trove of artwork from the National Gallery of Art includes, among others, works by Raphael, Rembrandt, Georgia O’Keeffe, Henri Matisse, Chuck Close, Jacob Lawrence, Pablo Picasso, and Alexander Calder, representing a wide range of artistic styles and techniques. Written by museum educators with decades of hands-on experience in both art-making activities and making art relatable to children, the activities include sculpting a clay figure inspired by Edgar Degas; drawing an object from touch alone, inspired by Joan Miro’s experience as an art student; painting a double-sided portrait with one side reflecting physical traits and the other side personality traits, inspired by Leonardo da Vinci’s Ginevra de’ Benci; and creating a story based on a Mary Cassatt painting. Educators, homeschoolers, and families alike will find their creativity sparked by this art extravaganza.

The National Gallery of Art maintains one of the world’s most renowned collections of American and European masterpieces from the 13th century to the present. The collection includes paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, sculpture, decorative arts, and new media arts. It is located in Washington, DC.

Make It! Write It! Read It!
Simple Bookmaking Projects to Engage Kids in Art and Literacy
Wendy M. L. Libby
• Co-op available

Crafting projects that provide literacy and curriculum ideas to enrich the classroom Make It! Write It! Read It! develops art and literacy skills through the craft of bookmaking, inspiring elementary-aged children to read, write, and tell stories with their creations. Creative, fun, field-tested projects include 17 different blank book designs such as accordion fold, coffee filter, hanging tassel, and paper bag books. These designs are then applied to 23 specific book projects kids are sure to love, with suggestions for making literary connections—writing poems, paragraphs, or simple stories related to their creations. Kids will delight in making books that include three-part fish, a creature pop-up, a double-sided mountain, and an ocean scene, among many others. Carefully crafted with teachers and parents or caregivers of kids aged 4–10 in mind, each activity has educational objectives for the project; skills developed; materials needed; clear, illustrated, step-by-step instructions; and literary connection ideas. The text is specific enough for beginners who need more direction yet offers open-ended possibilities for imagination and creation for more experienced bookmakers, writers, and artists.

Wendy M. L. Libby has been an elementary art teacher for 35 years and has received many teaching awards. She is the author of Enriching the Curriculum with Art Experiences, Using Art to Make Art, and Using Stories to Make Stories. She lives in Brewer, Maine.

Art Is Every Day
Activities for the Home, Park, Museum, and City
Eileen S. Prince
Co-op available

An art project and activity book aimed at helping children and adults improve their basic understanding of art, this reference stresses art elements and principles, which in turn promote observation and discovery on a daily basis. Ideal for anyone wanting to bring meaningful, rich, and fun art experiences into children’s lives, this work is stocked with 65 artsy activities for the home, park, city, or even museum. Projects include going on a photographic scavenger hunt in search of forms and shapes, writing an imaginary autobiography based solely on a museum portrait, and making a sand casting on a trip to the beach. The projects, which are accessible and require only free or inexpensive materials, are accompanied by a helpful index that categorizes projects by elements and principles.

Eileen S. Prince has been an art specialist for more than 40 years. She is the author of the bestselling Art Is Fundamental and Art Matters. She lives in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Colonial Comics Series

Colonial Comics
New England: 1620 - 1750
Edited by Jason Rodriguez

Colonial Comics is a graphic novel collection of 20 stories focusing on the colonial period from 1620 through 1750 in New England. Stories about Puritans and free thinkers, Pequots and Jewish settlers, female business owners and dedicated school teachers, whales and livestock, slavery and frontiers, and many other aspects of colonial life.

Jason Rodriguez is a writer and editor, whose books have been nominated for an Eisner Award and 8 Harvey Awards. Colonial Comics represents Jason Rodriguez’s most ambitious project to date. Jason lives in Arlington, VA with his wife and their two dogs, four cats, and a parrot. You can usually find him on a street corner, staring out into the future. Colonial Comics, Volume II

A massacre in Boston. A tea party. A shot heard around the world. But who was the first casualty of the massacre? How did the tea get to Boston Harbor? What was the Battle of Concord like for a Minute Man? Colonial Comics: New England, 1750–1775 expands the frame of this important period of American history. Unconventional characters come to life, including gravedigging medical students, counterfeiters, female playwrights, instigators of civil disobedience, newspaper editors, college students, rum traders, freemen, and slaves.

Jason Rodriguez is an Eisner and Harvey-nominated editor of comics and graphic novels. His anthologies include Postcards: True Stories That Never Happened, Colonial Comics, Volume II: New England, 1620-1750, and Artists Against Police Brutality. He is also the author of the short story collection Try Looking Ahead. He lives in Arlington, Virginia. Elizabeth’s Constellation Quilt
Olivia Fu

- Co-op available

A story about a child’s love for a parent and a sense of wonderment about the stars

Elizabeth, a little girl mouse, wants to be a sailor like her father, but she has trouble learning the stars for navigation. Then her mother makes her a quilt of the constellations, and before long Elizabeth uses her new knowledge to find her missing father. This charming story of family love introduces the idea of families looking together at the night sky.

Olivia Fu is a painter and art educator who holds a BFA in painting from the University of California–Santa Cruz. She lives in New York City.

Magnificent Minds
16 Pioneering Women in Science and Medicine
Pendred Noyce

Did you know that Florence Nightingale pioneered the use of statistics in public health? That Marie Curie is still the only person to have won the Nobel Prize in both physics and chemistry—and the only winner whose daughter also won a Nobel Prize? That in the 17th century, the most accomplished scholar in mathematical astronomy was a Polish woman, Maria Cunitz? This book, which grows out of an exhibit at the Grolier Club in New York, introduces the lives, sayings, and dreams of sixteen women over four centuries and chronicles their contributions to mathematics, physics, chemistry, astronomy, and medicine.

Pendred (Penny) Noyce is a physician, advocate for science education, and mother of five. Her past books for children include the award-winning Lexicon series from Scarletta Press and several Galactic Academy of Science adventures with inset mini-biographies of scientists from Tumblehome Learning.

Remarkable Minds
17 More Pioneering Women in Science and Medicine
Pendred Noyce

For centuries, women have risen above their traditional roles to pursue a new understanding of the natural world. This book, which grows out of an exhibit at the Grolier Club in New York, introduces the lives, sayings, and dreams of 16 women over four centuries and chronicles their contributions to mathematics, physics, chemistry, astronomy, and medicine. Some of the notable women portrayed in the book include French mathematician Marie-Sophie Germain, known for her work in Elasticity theory, differential geometry, and number theory, and Scottish chemist Elizabeth Fulhame, best known for her 1794 work An Essay on Combustion. A companion volume to Magnificent Minds by the same author.

Pendred (Penny) Noyce is a physician, advocate for science education, and mother of five. Her past books for children include the award-winning Lexicon series from Scarletta Press and several Galactic Academy of Science adventures with inset mini-biographies of scientists from Tumblehome Learning.

Dinosaur Eggs and Blue Ribbons
A Look at Science Fairs, Inside & Out
Barnas G. Monteith

On Teaching Science
Principles and Strategies That Every Educator Should Know
Jeffrey Bennett

Dinosaur Eggs and Blue Ribbons takes young readers on a journey into adventure science as experienced by a young aspiring scientist who turned scientific inspiration into scientific success. The book is full of anecdotes and advice from the world of STEM education and contains practical advice about judging, display boards, and other preparations for the big science fair day. Throughout the text and appendix are examples of original, winning science fair materials as well as links to a wide variety of proprietary online resources which complement the text. In the end, the hardships are all worthwhile when you work alongside some of the top scientists in the field, make groundbreaking discoveries, and win big in the science fair and beyond!

Barnas G. Monteith is chair of the Massachusetts State Science & Engineering Fair and a cofounder of the Curious Minds Initiative for Science Fairs. He is a record-holding science fair winner spanning his middle and high school years, with multiple international science fair wins, including two ISEF 1st Prize Grand Awards. He operates his not-for-profit blog and resource site, www.mistersciencefair.com. He is the author of The Furious Case of the Fraudulent Fossil and The Harrowing Case of the Hackensack Hacker. He lives in Brockton, Massachusetts.

On Teaching Science is a short, practical guide to key principles and strategies that will help students learn in any subject at any level but with special focus on the STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) subjects. Though aimed primarily at current and future teachers, the ideas covered will be of interest to anyone involved in education, including parents, school administrators, policymakers, community leaders, and research scientists. The book describes how important it is to instill the notion that learning requires study and effort; presents big picture ideas about teaching; provides general suggestions for successful teaching; and includes pedagogical strategies for success in science teaching. With a combination of personal experience and research-based studies to discuss the current state of education in the United States, the author shows how it can be improved through both individual educators and systemic changes.

Jeffrey Bennett, winner of the 2013 American Institute of Physics Science Communication Award, is an astrophysicist and educator who proposed the idea for and helped develop the Voyage Scale Model Solar System—the first science-oriented exhibit approved for permanent installation on the National Mall in Washington, DC. He is the lead author of college textbooks in four subjects—astronomy, astrobiology, mathematics, and statistics—and has written critically acclaimed books for the general public including Beyond UFOs and On the Cosmic Horizon. He is also the author of children's books, including those in the Science Adventures with Max the Dog series and The Wizard Who Saved the World. He lives in Boulder, Colorado.
Curious Minds
40 Hands-on Activities to Inspire a Love of Learning
Ty Kolstedt and Dr. Azeem Z. Vasi

- Co-op available

A multidisciplinary activity book from four core academic areas—math, science, language arts, and social studies Unlike the many activity books devoted solely to one type of activity—science experiments, art activities, math games, brain teasers, and the like—Curious Minds takes a multidisciplinary approach, incorporating science, social studies, math, language arts, world languages, and more in 40 hands-on activities that promote kids’ critical thinking and engaged interest in the world they live in. Designed for teachers, parents, or homeschoolers searching for new ways to motivate students aged 9–12, this illustrated resource provides a short mini-lesson for each activity, giving educational background information, related lingo, a materials list, step-by-step directions, and guidance for extending the activity. The wide range of activities—from exploring the physics of parachute flight to making homemade ink to testing how pollutants affect plants—ensures every learner’s interest will be piqued.

Ty Kolstedt teaches secondary-level social studies and has worked with kids as a wilderness instructor, program coordinator, and teacher for more than 12 years. He lives in Castle Rock, Colorado.

Dr. Azeem Z. Vasi is an otolaryngologist who has daily clinic interaction with parents and children dealing with various developmental issues. He lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Labcraft Wizards
Magical Projects and Experiments
John Austin

Being a wizard takes training, practice, and a few tips from an expert. Author and professional toy designer John Austin, creator of the popular MiniWeapons of Mass Destruction series, provides dozens of projects for up-and-coming sorcerers. Each of the 35 projects in Labcraft Wizards is explained through illustrated step-by-step instructions and uses simple, everyday materials. Build an Enchanted Hourglass out of empty soda bottles, plastic hangers, and sand. Transform a chicken egg into a colorful, bouncy Dragon Egg using vinegar and food coloring or mix up a batch of Ogre Snot with corn syrup and gelatin. Through its creative activities, Labcraft Wizards helps eager minds explore basic concepts in chemistry and physics through experimentation, encourages scientific observation, and fuels imaginations.

John Austin is a professional toy designer and author of the MiniWeapons of Mass Destruction series, as well as So Now You’re a Zombie. He lives in Chicago.

Junk Drawer Chemistry
50 Awesome Experiments That Don’t Cost a Thing
Bobby Mercer

A children’s instructional book on how to use readily available materials to turn the house into a science lab. Science teacher Bobby Mercer provides readers with more than 50 great hands-on experiments that can be performed for just pennies, or less. Each project has a materials list, detailed step-by-step instructions with illustrations, and a brief explanation of the scientific principle being demonstrated. From turning three pennies and two galvanized washers into a simple battery to crushing a soda can using atmospheric pressure, the experiments in this book call for materials that are recycled or repurposed—crayons, plastic drink bottles, balloons, ice cubes, and other basic items found around the house. Junk Drawer Chemistry also includes sidebars of fascinating chemistry facts. Educators and parents will find this title a handy resource to teach children about chemistry topics that include atoms, compounds, solutions, mixtures, reactions, thermodynamics, acids and bases, and more, while having fun at the same time.

Bobby Mercer has been a high school physics teacher for more than two decades and is the author of Junk Drawer Physics, The Flying Machine Book, and The Racecar Book. He lives outside of Asheville, North Carolina.

Junk Drawer Physics
50 Awesome Experiments That Don’t Cost a Thing
Bobby Mercer

Physics teacher Bobby Mercer provides readers with more than 50 great hands-on experiments that can be performed for just pennies, or less. Turn a plastic cup into a pinhole camera using waxed paper, a rubber band, and a thumbtack. Build a swinging wave machine using a series of washers suspended on strings from a yardstick. Or construct your own planetarium from an empty potato chip canister, construction paper, scissors, and a pin. Each project has a materials list, detailed step-by-step instructions with illustrations, and a brief explanation of the scientific principle being demonstrated. Junk Drawer Physics also includes sidebars of fascinating physics facts, such as did you know the Eiffel Tower is six inches taller in summer than in winter because its steel structure expands in the heat? Educators and parents will find this title a handy resource to teach children about physics topics that include magnetism, electricity, force, motion, light, energy, sound, and more, and have fun at the same time.

Bobby Mercer is a high school physics teacher and the author of several books, including The Flying Machine Book, How Do You Light a Fart?, Quarterback Dad, and Smash It! Crash It! Launch It! He lives outside of Asheville, North Carolina.

How the Pilosas Evolved Skinny Noses
Deb Kelemen

The pilosas are a busy species, spending their days snuffling up the millibugs that keep them healthy and strong. But as the climate grows hotter, the millibugs disappear into deep underground tunnels. What happens to pilosas who can no longer reach the millibugs? And what happens to the pilosa species over time? Journey with these engaging creatures as they introduce children to the amazing mechanism of natural selection.

Deb Kelemen is a parent, child development researcher and educator with a passion for understanding children’s beliefs about the natural world and addressing their common science misconceptions. A Fellow of the Association for Psychological Sciences, she is Professor of Psychological and Brain Sciences at Boston University where she directs the Child Cognition Lab: home to the Evolving Minds Project, a National Science Foundation-funded group that develops educational materials to support early science learning. She loves to talk about children, nature and STEM education and speaks regularly in workshops, schools and universities.

Marine Science for Kids

Exploring and Protecting Our Watery World, Includes Cool Careers and 21 Activities

Josh Hestermann and Bethanie Hestermann

Foreword by Stephanie Arne

While including all the ocean animals kids love, Marine Science for Kids delves much deeper into the complete science of aquatic study, including geology, chemistry and biology in both salt- and freshwater environments—more accurately reflecting the real-world study and practice of aquatic science. Real-life marine scientists share what inspires them every day so kids can learn more about these exciting careers. Hands-on, cross-curricular activities in each chapter—including science experiments, arts and crafts, edible projects and group games—make learning fun.

How to Avoid the Fearsome Cat
Yoon Jeong Choi
Illustrations by Hyun Kyeong Shim

When fifteen mice living in a warehouse receive a threatening letter from the Farmer’s cat, they gather together to decide how to protect themselves. The mice brainstorm for solutions and vote on different ideas to create a plan that will prevent the cat from attacking them. Through intricate, quirky illustrations, readers will learn how to sort items and create bar graphs to organize ideas. Activities and questions will engage readers as they measure quantities, create bar graphs and evaluate the information within this exciting story.

Yoon Jeong Choi majored in early childhood education from Ehwa Women’s University. She also won the grand prize from the MBC creative fairy tales tournament. Hyun Kyeong Shim studied at SI Illustration School and has been working as an illustrator since 2003. Her illustrations can be found in stories such as Finding Missing Daddy, The Button That Popped, and Moon, Moon, What Kind of Moon.

Princesses of Bread
She Shil Kim
Illustrations by Eun Hwa Jung

The Queen of Bread tries to teach her three daughters how to cook her famous dish. But the three princesses are busy with other things, and they don’t want to learn how to bake bread. When the Queen of Bread falls ill, the princesses don’t know what to do! Can they learn to bake bread to save the kingdom and heal their mother? Readers will learn the importance of measuring in this whimsical story. Activities and questions will engage readers as they measure quantities and evaluate the information within the story.

She Shil Kim graduated from Sungkyunkwan University with a degree in children’s education and subsequently majored in child psychology in the university’s graduate school. She’s written Dad Loves Us Equally, Gingerbread Boy, and Baby Cloud Crybaby, among other books. Eun Hwa Jung graduated from Sejong University with an art (drawing) degree and illustrated Story of Sook Hyang.

Bully on the Bus
Carl W. Bosch
Illustrations by Rebekah Strecker

While on the school bus, Jack is being teased by the fifth-grade bully. Should he ignore him, ask an adult for help, or fight back? Designed to teach children values while involving them in the story, this book allows readers to choose the path of the action and observe the benefits and consequences of each decision.

Carl W. Bosch has been a middle school counselor for 37 years, is a former parenting columnist, and presents a child guidance program, Ten Pointers for Parents. He is the author of Making the Grade. He lives in Connecticut. Rebekah Strecker is the illustrator of Magic Tools for Raising Kids.

Temperament Tools
Working with Your Child’s Inborn Traits
Revised edition
Helen F. Neville, BS, RN and Diane Clark Johnson

“Special attention is given to the ‘mesh’ between the parent’s temperament and that of the child. This is a useful book for all parents and others who work closely with children. Highly recommended.”
—Library Journal on first edition

The most recent and respected research on how temperament can affect a child’s progress toward developmental milestones and responses to new experiences. Research shows that many challenging behaviors are connected to a child’s inborn temperament, the unique set of characteristics that each child is born with. When adults who work with children understand what makes a child tick, they can adapt their parenting, teaching, or treatment protocols to the individual needs of each child. Coauthor Helen Neville has updated the contents of the original edition of Temperament Tools to reflect the latest understanding about inborn temperament and its effects on behavior. This book describes many types of children and offers strategies to help deal with behavior resulting from inborn temperament. Parents fill out a temperament chart to help define and understand their child, then consult the appropriate chapter that refers to that type of child. Temperament Tools avoids the use of psychological jargon while featuring the extensive practical understanding of children and their parents’ questions and needs for skills. Adults using the book find the sections on practical ways to handle kids with temperament in mind to be valuable for restoring peace in home or school.

Helen F. Neville, BS, RN, is the author of Is This a Phase?, Mommy! I Have to Go Potty!, and What to Do About Sleep Problems in Young Children, 12 Months to 5 Years. Diane Clark Johnson is the coauthor of the first edition of Temperament Tools. They both live in Oakland, California.
Helping Teens Handle Tough Experiences
Strategies to Foster Resilience
Jill R. Nelson and Sarah Kjos

- Co-op available

Educators, mentors, congregational leaders, counselors, and other youth-serving professionals will find the tools they need to help young people with personal, familial, social, or cultural adversities in this resource. Specific crises are addressed, including youths who physically harm themselves, parents who are chemically dependent, abusive dating relationships, depression, and homelessness—and solutions are offered for managing them. With reproducible handouts, examples of real-life situations, and ideas and topics for group discussion, this strength-based approach to working with youths empowers them to avoid becoming paralyzed by obstacles and instead face life with confidence.

Jill R. Nelson, PhD, is an assistant professor and clinical program coordinator for the counselor education program at North Dakota State University. She lives in Fargo, North Dakota. Sarah Kjos, MEd, is a counselor at Rape and Abuse Crisis Center of Fargo-Moorhead. She lives in Moorhead, Minnesota.

The Secret of Toddler Sharing
Why Sharing Is Hard and How to Make It Easier
Elizabeth Crary

Offering parents realistic expectations about toddler behavior, this guide provides detailed, how-to advice for teaching kids to share and for intervening when toddlers have difficulty sharing. It reviews children’s temperament and development and the roles they play in the willingness to share, while also explaining how to handle the child who never complains about giving up a possession. Relating personal experiences as real-life examples of the teaching process, this parenting reference includes scenarios and suggests dialogs to use. Three factors that encourage children to share are introduced, along with five strategies that specify how to teach sharing. Whether sharing issues come up with toddlers on play dates or in public places, parents will be armed with the knowledge of how to handle and teach their child.

Elizabeth Crary, MS, is the award-winning author of more than 40 children’s and child-guidance publications. She has taught parenting education, with an emphasis on problem-solving and skill-building methods, and established Parenting Press in 1979. She lives in Seattle.
